

My dear children, let's not just talk about love; let's practice real love. For God is greater than our worried hearts and knows more about us than we do ourselves.

What wound, trauma, hurt, or bruised history, do you need God to touch in your life?

Take the next 5 minutes to process this question.

How does the question make you feel?

Does the question strike a cord in you? If so, why?

What comes to the surface when you consider this question?

Is God inviting you to take notice of something in your life?

4:59

If others are with you, and you feel safe with them, maybe turn to each other and share a response.

How could you ask this question of your children in a child like way?

I will say of the Lord, “He is my refuge and my fortress, my God, in whom I trust.”

Psalm 91:2

The people brought children to Jesus, hoping he might touch them. The disciples shooed them off. But Jesus was irate and let them know it:

“Don’t push these children away. Don’t ever get between them and me. These children are at the very center of life in the kingdom. Mark this: Unless you accept God’s kingdom in the simplicity of a child, you’ll never get in.” Then, gathering the children up in his arms, he laid his hands of blessing on them.

Mark 10:13

“God doesn’t break things so He can fix them,
He fixes broken things so He can use them.”

Come to Me, all who are weary and burdened,
and I will give you rest.
