1 Samuel 2:1-10 - Thursday, June 13th, 2013

- At the conclusion of our study in chapter one last week Hannah had dedicated her miracle son Samuel, to God's service in the tabernacle.
<ul> <li>God is about to use Samuel to take Israel by the hand out of one of Israel's darkest periods and into the greatest period in Israel's history.</li> <li>However, as we begin chapter two, it would seem that the Holy Spirit has deemed it necessary to record just how dark it was at this time.</li> </ul>
- The reason I'm starting out this way right out of the shoot is because it will be germane to our understanding of the "why" behind the "what. - Namely, that no matter how bad it is, it cannot change how good God is, and no matter how dark it is, it cannot dim the light of Who God is.
- It's during those times when it's the darkest that the light of the world shines the brightest, and it's always the darkest before the son rises.
- Such is the case here as we hit the ground running in our study through this book, it's almost as if God wants us to see this darkness first.
- Actually it's for this reason that God has us first go through dark times of deep anguish or as one so aptly said it "the dark night of the soul."
- Let me explain, God's mercy comes when the bright light of joy comes in the morning vis-à-vis our enduring those dark night's of the soul.
Psalms 30:5 NKJV For His anger is but for a moment, His favor is for life; Weeping may endure for a night, But joy comes in the morning.
- It's with this introduction that has now readied us for the magnificence of Hannah's prayer having tasted from this morning cup of rejoicing.
(1) And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD; My horn is exalted in the LORD. I smile at my enemies, Because I rejoice in Your salvation.
- Just in verse one we have important lessons we can learn from Hannah's prayer, chief of which is her barrenness becoming blessedness.
- One commentator says, in chapter one we heard the prayer of a barren woman and in chapter two we hear the praise of a blessed woman.
- A second lesson is, that which Hannah sought in prayer, and wrought through prayer, did not mean that Hannah would cease from prayer.
Charles Spurgeon - "When she had obtained her desire she did not desist from prayer, but the rather she was encouraged to abound in it.
Her prayers, however, were no longer salted with sorrow, but were sweetened with the spices of gratitude. She rose from prayer to praise."
- A third lesson is, in addition to her continuing, and abounding, in prayer after receiving her hearts desire, Hannah does not break her vow.
- In other words, Hannah is there at the tabernacle to sacrifice her only begotten son by releasing, and offering, him for the Lord's service.
- Make no mistake about it; this wasn't easy, as it's evidenced by what she says in her prayer to the Lord, that her horn is exalted in the Lord.
- Here's what I'm thinking, when Hannah prays her horn is exalted in the Lord, she's saying that her strength to leave her son is in the Lord.
- This because the horn is a scripture picture of an ox's strength and power. Simply put, the Lord is strengthening and empowering Hannah.
- This dovetails into our fourth lesson, which is that God's calling comes packaged with God's empowering to do hard things He calls us to.
- The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make them inherit the throne of glory.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make them inherit the throne of glory. "For the pillars of the earth are the LORD's, And He has set the world upon them. (9) He will guard th</li></ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make them inherit the throne of glory. "For the pillars of the earth are the LORD's, And He has set the world upon them. (9) He will guard the</li></ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> </ul> Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it." (2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make them inherit the throne of glory. "For the pillars of the earth are the LORD's, And He has set the world upon them. (9) He will guard the feet of His s
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make them inherit the throne of glory. "For the pillars of the earth are the LORD's, And He has set the world upon them. (9) He will guard the</li></ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make them inherit the throne of glory. "For the pillars of the earth are the LORD's, And He has set the world upon them. (9) He will guard the feet of His sain</li></ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> </ul> Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it." (2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make them inherit the throne of glory. "For the pillars of the earth are the LORD's, And He has set the world upon them. (9) He will guard the feet
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make them inherit the throne of glory.</li> <li>"For the pillars of the earth are the LORD's, And He has set the world upon them. (9) He will guard t</li></ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make the minerit the throne of glory. "For the pillars of the earth are the LORD will judge the ends of the earth. "He will guard the feet of His s</li></ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD; Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make them inherit the throne of glory. "For the pillars of the earth are the LORD's, And He has set the world upon them. (9) He will guard th</li></ul>
<ul> <li>The fifth lesson I found in verse one is, Hannah had a personal and experiential knowledge of the God of the Word, and the Word of God.</li> <li>Here's how I get there, Hannah's prayer bares a striking resemblance and similarity to another prayer that would later be prayed by Mary.</li> <li>While we won't take the time to go into this in depth, allow me to at least share with you one similarity between the two from just verse one.</li> <li>1 Samuel 2:1 And Hannah prayed and said: "My heart rejoices in the LORD;Because I rejoice in Your salvation.</li> <li>Luke 1:46-47 NIV And Mary said: "My soul glorifies the Lord (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,</li> <li>Charles Spurgeon - "This is a right noble song, breathing not only warm devotion, but the true spirit of poetry. Hannah was a great original poetess, and even Mary in her sweet hymn of gratitude will be found to have followed in Hannah's track. Though as yet no Psalms had been written which might serve her as models, her song is exquisitely composed, and has a delightful savor of spiritual religion about it."</li> <li>(2) "No one is holy like the LORD, For there is none besides You, Nor is there any rock like our God. (3) "Talk no more so very proudly; Let no arrogance come from your mouth, For the LORD is the God of knowledge; And by Him actions are weighed. (4) "The bows of the mighty men are broken, And those who stumbled are girded with strength. (5) Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, And the hungry have ceased to hunger. Even the barren has borne seven, And she who has many children has become feeble. (6) "The LORD kills and makes alive; He brings down to the grave and brings up. (7) The LORD makes poor and makes rich; He brings low and lifts up. (8) He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make the minerit the throne of glory. "For the pillars of the earth are the LORD will judge the ends of the earth. "He will guard the feet of His s</li></ul>

- Here's why, in verse ten Hannah prophetically points to Jesus Christ when she says the Lord will exalt the strength of His anointed King. - This is the first mention in scripture of Jesus referred to as the Messiah in Hebrew, which is Christ in Greek, and anointed one in English. Charles Spurgeon - "Hannah is the first who sings of the 'anointed' king, and, as there was actually no king over Israel in her day, the words would seem to have a prophetic reference to Christ. He is the crown of all the saints' joyous, and their songs reach their highest notes when they sing of 'the anointed."

- God worked everything together for Hannah's good, and His glory, because she loved God, and she was called according to His purpose. - This is God's purpose for us, such that He works everything for our good and His glory by pointing us to Christ and making us like Christ.

- I suppose it should come as no surprise that John the Baptist's father Zechariah quote's Hannah saying Jesus is the horn of our salvation.