1st Corinthians 7:8-16

Divorce and remarriage continues to be one of the most controversial subjects in Scripture. Paul seeks to offer clarity in today's text.

Not all divorces are equal. What are biblical allowances for ending a marriage? Where are the Scripture proofs found?

Why does God have such a low view of divorce? Why does He have such a high view of marriage?

Instead of fighting so hard to get out of a marriage, Christians should be fighting so hard to stay in their marriage.

How has your understanding of remarriage changed since the sermon?

Some people don't have biblical freedom to remarry. Who are they? Why is it important that this command remain today?

Why is it valuable that Paul explained church discipline in a section leading up to this text? How does church discipline play a role in marriage?
