Luke 24:13-32

The most important reality that exists in our world today is the truth of the Word of God. Jesus' walk to Emmaus reminds us of that.

Have you ever heard the Bible taught but didn't understand it? Has the truth of Scripture ever been revealed to you in a way that brought understanding?

The Word of God is power. It's one thing to hear the Word, another thing to believe the Word, and another thing to understand the Word.

The two disciples in our text heard the teachings of Jesus and knew the teachings of the Old Testament. Yet they seemingly didn't understand, and eventually didn't believe, His teaching concerning the suffering and resurrection.

Have there been biblical teachings that you've heard but simply didn't understand or believe? Are there still?

Have there been biblical teachings that you didn't understand or believe that were taught clearly which helped in your understanding and belief?

Understanding Scripture anchors faith in reality which produces profound joy. To know the true interpretation of Scripture is to know God and realize how His plan is unfolding and His sovereign purpose is being accomplished.
