

FAMILY VACATION 2024

Last year, we went on a big vacation.

We spent nights in five different locations, including the Great Wolf Lodge, which was the kids' favorite, and saw a lot of our family. This year, the thought of that made me tired, thinking about doing the same thing again. So we switched it up a bit. We still visited family back east, but this time, we only stayed in one place.

We stayed in Montgomery, Alabama, but we did travel to Atlanta, GA, to see family. The trip lasted 11 days, but it was good to see family, including a new member, Ruth Boston.

Enjoying some time on the porch

Sophia with her new girl cousin.

Cousin Time At Splashpad

Hanging With The Browns

A Great Time With Nana & Papa

CONNECTING FAITH & LIFE PODCAST

NEW & FUTURE EPISODES

Forgiveness May Be the Key To Your Healing |
Forgiveness is a Choice?

Why Do Some Say Christianity is Not a Religion?
While Others Say, It's A Rescue Religion?

I have been making podcasts for over ten years. However, many have started, paused, stopped, restarted, and stopped again. It has been a real rollercoaster. Do I feel like a failure? NOPE!

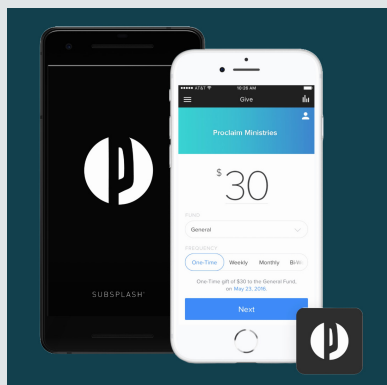

I heard a quote a few days ago that made my daughter Sophia and I look at each other and say, "That's deep!" The quote was from John Maxwell. He said, "The goal, in the beginning, is not to do well but to begin." So, I began over ten years ago and am getting some motivation, focus, and traction.

Our team has published over 50 episodes. We are on Apple Podcast, Spotify, YouTube, and other podcasting platforms, including our app. We have enough episodes recorded to last through August, and I am recording episodes weekly.

I am currently testing out a new platform that will allow me to have remote guests while maintaining high-quality video and audio.

New Connecting Faith and Life episodes go live every Saturday at 9:00 AM.

If you have ideas or questions for the podcast, you can submit them at proclaimministries.com/questions

BECOME A PROCLAIM PARTNER TODAY

PROCLAIMMINISTRIES.COM/GIVE