QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER

1. Are you tempted to go into isolation when you feel down and upset about something? If so, who is someone you can talk to next time you're wanting to isolate yourself?
2. If you're going through a tough time right now, what are some things you still have to be thankful for, even though your life is far from perfect?
3. Is there something causing you to lose your sobriety in life right now? Is there something you're using to mask your pain and cope with the difficulty you're facing? If so, what is it?
