

Rev. Loraine Taylor accepted the call to preach at age 22 and became a credentialed minister in a sister organization in 1980. She has served as a senior pastor for 37 years. She continues to serve as senior pastor of the second church plant and is in her 32nd year at Grace Assembly of God in Catawba, Virginia.

She has served on the presbytery of the Appalachian District of the Assemblies of God since February 2001 and is one of the two Executive Presbyters. She has served as General Presbyter and continues to serve on several committees and ministry boards.

Her studies include Tomlinson College, Assemblies of God Seminary, Richmond Graduate University, and Liberty University. She holds a bachelor's degree in Christian Counseling and two master's degrees. She is acquiring her doctorate in counseling from Liberty University.

She and her husband, Willis, have lived in Catawba since they married in 1972. They have three children and four grandchildren.

Sharon Hager has been involved in full-time ministry for over 40 years. Partnering with her husband, Wayne, she has hosted women's conferences, led Bible studies, and co-led in worship and youth ministry. In 2012, a long-time dream and calling was fulfilled when Sharon became a public school teacher and missionary. Her desire is to be a light to all children, but especially to those who have mostly experienced darkness and hurt.

The Hagers have served as senior pastors of Zion Family Ministries in Wise, VA for 28 years. Sharon truly believes that God moves when the power of corporate worship works hand in hand with the power of corporate prayer.

"There's something remarkable that happens when women of God come together to seek the face of God!"
