

Anger Issues

Main Point

Our anger and emotions will either draw us closer to God or push us further away, the choice is ours

We can't hide what God already knows

Our confessions don't inform Him, they transform us

God invites us to share our emotions

Our emotions are not a reason to run from God, they are a reason to run to Him

Don't let your anger become your actions

While being angry is not necessarily sinful, what we do with it matters

Even when we reject Him, He still pursues us

Psalm 62:8 Trust in him at all times, O people; pour out your heart before him; God is a refuge for us
