

The film is ready for the first showings next week, but there is still work to be done, changes to be made, and things to be added before it is released to the public. Pray as post-production continues for the final “polishing” of the film.

Day 360