

Living For Christ In The Day-To-Day pt.2

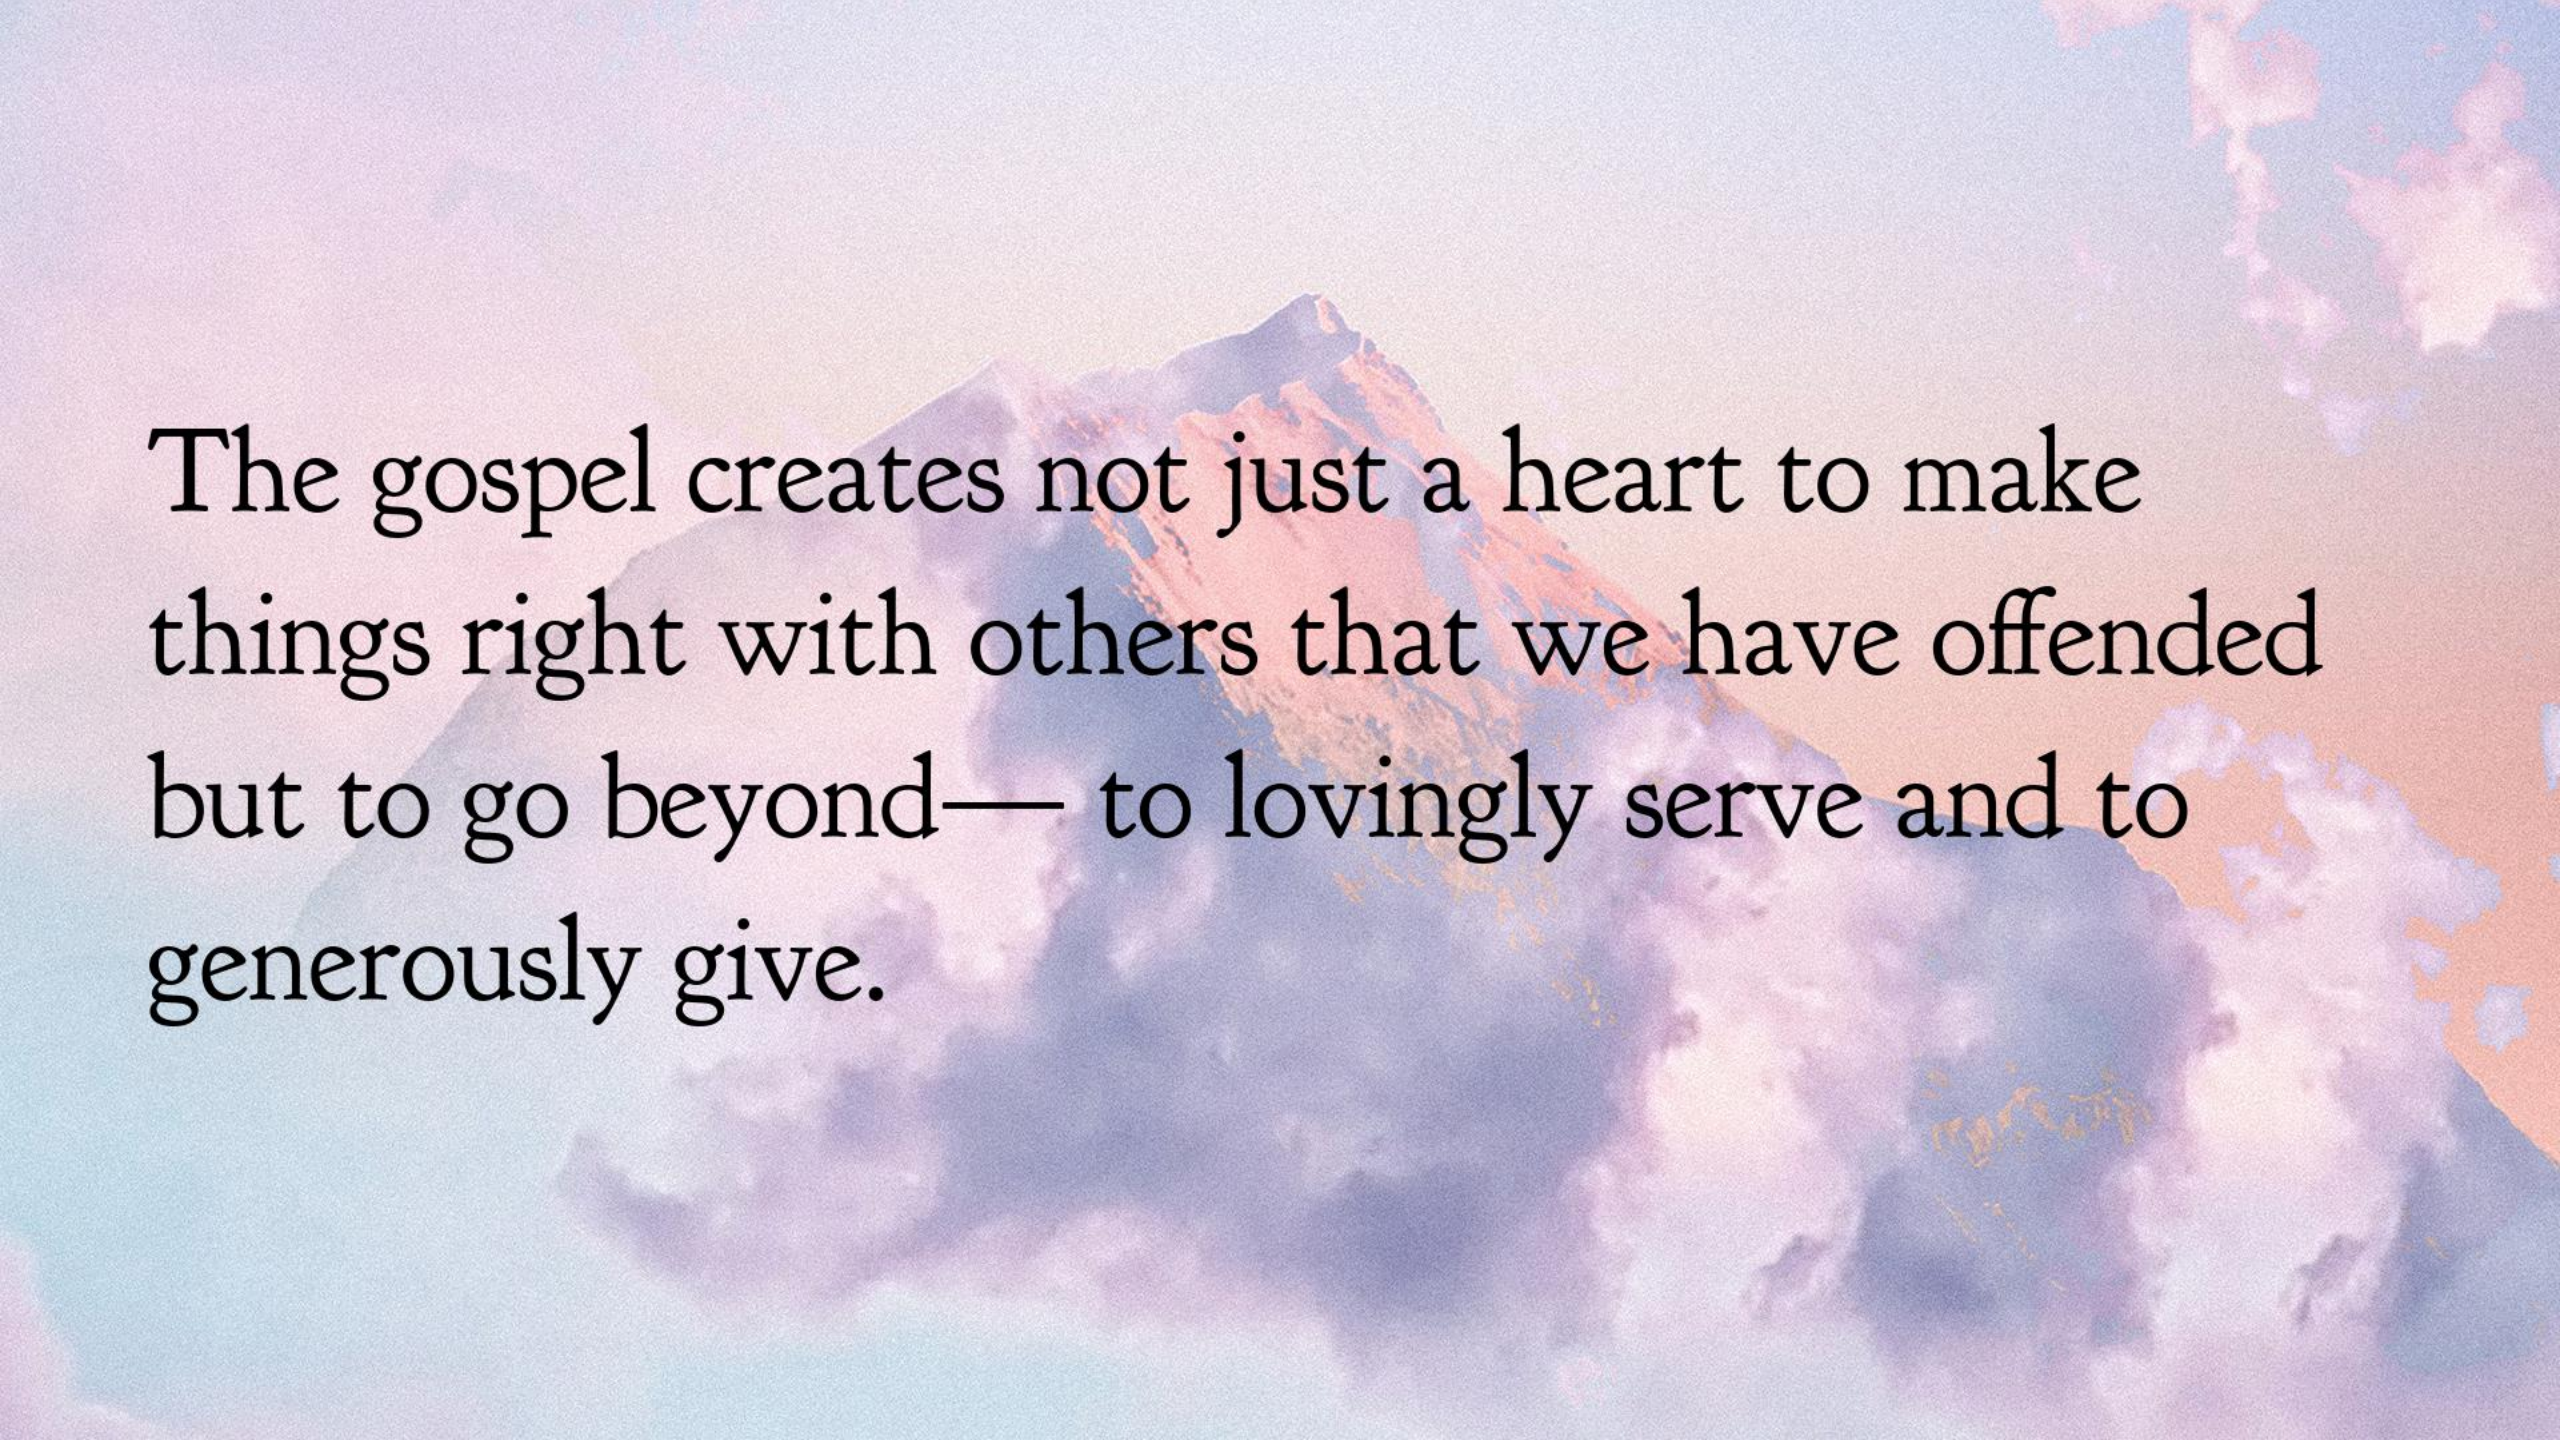

Exodus 21:33-23:19

These chapters show us that God is concerned with our day-to-day lives and that His Word is relevant to us.

These laws were wonderful gifts because they showed people how to live in community, loving their neighbors as themselves.

The background features a soft-focus image of a mountain peak, possibly Mount Everest, with a sky transitioning from a pale blue at the top to a warm orange and yellow at the bottom, suggesting a sunrise or sunset. The overall aesthetic is serene and inspirational.

The gospel creates not just a heart to make things right with others that we have offended but to go beyond— to lovingly serve and to generously give.

God still calls His people to a life of holiness and purity.

God's people are called not just to obey the laws
but to care for those in need.

A scenic view of a snow-capped mountain peak under a clear blue sky with scattered white clouds. The mountain is the central focus, with its peak reaching towards the top of the frame. The sky is a vibrant blue, and the clouds are soft and white, adding depth to the scene. The overall atmosphere is serene and majestic.

Let us be quick to welcome internationals, as Christ has welcomed us.

Those who know much love should be the very ones showing it to this broken world.

A background image featuring a mountain peak with a rainbow-like sky. The sky transitions from a light blue on the left to a bright orange and yellow on the right, with soft, white and pinkish clouds. The mountain peak is dark and jagged, with some snow or light-colored patches. The overall scene is ethereal and serene.

Jesus is the source of our sanctification, the first fruits of our resurrection, the Lord of the harvest, the water of life, and the sacrifice for our sin.
