The Grace Debate

Acts 15:1-35

The background is a close-up of ancient, cracked parchment in shades of brown and tan. A glowing golden path of light, composed of several bright points connected by thin lines, winds across the surface. A faint, dark blue map outline is visible beneath the text. The word 'EPHESUS' is written in a small, light-colored font near the bottom center of the text.

As we track the mission of God in the book of Acts our understanding of grace and our practical application of grace is essential.

EPHESUS

Liberalism or secularism is not the most dangerous thing the church faces. Religiosity within the community of faith is our most dangerous enemy

The Mosaic Law had served its purpose.
Its purpose was to show us that we need grace because our works can't get the job done!

We have the firm establishment of our doctrine of salvation: by grace alone through faith alone. In Christ alone.

The image features a map of the Eastern Mediterranean region, including parts of Turkey, Syria, and Iraq. The map is overlaid on a background of cracked, brown earth. A series of glowing orange lines with bright points at each connection trace a path across the map. Two specific points are labeled: 'EPHESUS' in the lower-left and 'ANTIOCH' in the lower-right. The text 'Salvation is by grace alone through faith alone in Christ alone.' is centered over the map in a white, sans-serif font.

Salvation is by grace alone through faith alone in Christ alone.
