

Monday, March 27th

John 1:1-5

•In the beginning the Word already existed. The Word was with God, and the Word was God. 2 He existed in the beginning with God. 3 God created everything through him, and nothing was created except through him. 4 The Word gave life to everything that was created,[a] and his life brought light to everyone. 5 The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness can never extinguish it.

Monday, March 27th

John 1:1-5

Over the course of my work, I have had the opportunity to interview job seekers for different positions.

It all starts before the interview by matching a candidate's self-proclaimed qualifications with a job description. This gives me an idea of their current skillsets and accomplishments. However, I am interested in the "why" as much as the "what" for each candidate. The interview gives me the chance to dive deeper into the "why." Why did you take your last job? Why do you want this job? Why did you make that decision? Why did you choose this career field?

Everyone has a beginning to their career. Finding someone who has solid logical decision making, is interested in the job for the right reasons, excels in their field but is only in the career field by response to the events of life is a good find. But imagine someone who was born for the field AND the position!

Monday, March 27th

Continued

Better yet, think about Someone who's existence from the beginning was designed for the position; in fact, the position is only available because of this Candidate's existence.

In John 1:1-5, we see a description of Jesus: with God, was God, through Him, things made, without Him, nothing made, in Him, life (the light of mankind)

darkness unable to overcome Him

Now THAT'S a résumé – a résumé for the highly selective role of the Savior of all mankind!

