Aquinas'
Holistic Body-Soul

Virtue is the Rational Habituating of the Sensitive Powers,
both Perceiving and Emotional Reactions

Internal conflict is a lack of harmony
between R-S

The soul came to be seen as identical with its powers, which
reduced the number
of its powers and posited an instrumental use of
bodily dispositions

Internal conflict is a necessary part of free choosing, and is permanent in the will.

Virtue is unnecessary
to preserve freedom.

The body is out of
our control.
