WHO AM I?

- Beloved son of his father
- Sent by his father to his brethren
- Hated by his brothers without just cause
- Rejected because of his claim to rule
- His brothers conspire against him
- Stripped of his garment
- Sold for silver
- Betrayed by his own brethren
- Taken into Egypt
- Becomes a servant
- Tempted yet remains righteous
- Falsely accused
- Condemned though innocent
- His humiliation precedes exaltation
- Exalted to the highest position under the supreme ruler
- About thirty when beginning his public service
- Becomes the source of bread for the world
- His own brethren do not recognize him
- His brethren eventually come to him for life
- He is ultimately revealed to those who rejected him
- He responds to his enemies with grace rather than vengeance
- Human evil is turned into divine salvation
- His suffering results in the salvation of many lives
- He provides for those who once rejected him
- His story moves from rejected sufferer to reigning deliverer
