Scripture

Genesis 12:1-3; 13:14-18 NRSV From the Pulpit

Now the LORD said to Abram, ‘Go from your country and your kindred and your father’s house to the land that I will show you. I will make of you a great nation, and I will bless you, and make your name great, so that you will be a blessing. I will bless those who bless you, and the one who curses you I will curse; and in you all the families of the earth shall be blessed.

The Lord said to Abram, after Lot had separated from him, “Raise your eyes now, and look from the place where you are, northward and southward and eastward and westward; for all the land that you see I will give you and to your offspring forever.

I will make your offspring like the dust of the earth; so that if one can count the dust of the earth, your offspring also can be counted.

Rise up, walk through the length and the breadth of the land, for I will give it to you.”

So Abram moved his tent and came and settled by the oaks of Mamre, which are at Hebron, and there he built an altar to the Lord.

*Closing Hymn

God Bids God's People on the Earth

God bids God's people on the earth, before he comes and calls them hence to live unknit to home and hearth, like far bound travelers in tents.

It is God's will that we should pass like strangers, sep'rate and aside.
From all the vain and worldly mass that crowd the Babylons of pride.

He'd have us rear no stately towers, sink no foundation walls of stone, but camp each night a few short hours, and ere the morrow's dawn move on.

O brother, whatsoever chain binds us to fleshly lust and strife, here let us rend it in God's name, and live, henceforth, the pilgrim life.
