

What's Next: Discovering God's Will for Your Life Pt. 4
Stay The Course

LifeGroup Discussion Guide
for the week of 5/28/2017

CONNECTION

- [1] Pastor Jose entitled the message “Stay the course”. Have there been projects, relationships, etc. that you have wanted to abandon “the course” on? If so what or who was driving your desire to abandon the course?

OBSERVATION & INTERPRETATION

- [2] From a biblical perspective why is trust such a key role in our walk with God. (Joshua 1:9, Psalm 13:5, Psalm 2:7)

- [3] When we know the will of God. What about that purpose gives us the will and desire to stay the course? Hebrew 12:1-2

What's Next: Discovering God's Will for Your Life Pt. 4
Stay The Course

LifeGroup Discussion Guide
for the week of 5/28/2017

CONNECTION

- [1] Pastor Jose entitled the message “Stay the course”. Have there been projects, relationships, etc. that you have wanted to abandon “the course” on? If so what or who was driving your desire to abandon the course?

OBSERVATION & INTERPRETATION

- [2] From a biblical perspective why is trust such a key role in our walk with God. (Joshua 1:9, Psalm 13:5, Psalm 2:7)

- [3] When we know the will of God. What about that purpose gives us the will and desire to stay the course? Hebrew 12:1-2

APPLICATION

[4] To stay the course, trust is a huge factor. What are you doing to help cultivate a heart that says “I’m trusting in God?”

[5] According to the quote “A man not on a mission has no reason to be brave.” Do you know your mission? If so what is your mission? What are some things that you have done to show that you are brave enough to protect that mission?

[6] What is the next right step for you to stay the course in your relationships, job, etc.?

REFLECTION

[7] What are some things you can do starting today, that will help you stay on course?

APPLICATION

[4] To stay the course, trust is a huge factor. What are you doing to help cultivate a heart that says “I’m trusting in God?”

[5] According to the quote “A man not on a mission has no reason to be brave.” Do you know your mission? If so what is your mission? What are some things that you have done to show that you are brave enough to protect that mission?

[6] What is the next right step for you to stay the course in your relationships, job, etc.?

REFLECTION

[7] What are some things you can do starting today, that will help you stay on course?

