

THE METICULOUS NATURE OF GOD'S PLANS

Ezekiel's being shown by God a vision of the new temple in chapter 40 is here continued in chapter 41. Ezekiel's guide leads him into the inner sanctuary and the Most Holy Place. The angel measures the walls, doorway, and the room; he then measures the temple's side rooms, each with precise dimensions and arranged on three levels. The construction details, including the supporting pillars; then the measurements of a building to the west of the main temple. The chapter concludes with measurements and descriptions of the outer sanctuary and entrances; and the detailed carvings of cherubim and palm trees upon the doors and walls.

A practical lesson we can glean from today's Bible study of Ezekiel 41:

In this chapter of the design and measurements of the inner sanctuary and the Most Holy Place, we see God is meticulous in His plans and design. He is also meticulous in how He orchestrates our lives. We are encouraged to trust the Lord to order our footsteps, to open doors, to cleanse us of any unrighteousness that would lead us out of the narrow way. Let us trust the Lord to not only know what we have need of, but to provide all that we need, even to accomplish the task that He would have for us to complete through Christ Jesus our Lord.
