Old Testament Glimpses of Easter "Crushed, Then Made Alive" Isaiah 53:7-12

The Servant has already been presented as the ideal prophet conscious of a worldwide mission from God. His complete dedication and trust gives assurance of His final success. But until now, Isaiah has hidden the news that the Servant's activity would be interrupted by death. A dreadful puzzle this—why must the Servant suffer, bleed, and die alone?!

1. The Servant's Silent Suffering (53:7-9)

2. The Servant's Supreme Satisfaction (53:10-12)
