

John 14-21: The Word Made Complete
“Something New Begins”
John 20:19-31

Morning revelations now give way to evening revelations. What a day it had been, that first Easter—consternation among the Lord’s enemies and appearances to His friends! He was seen by Mary Magdalene and other women, two disciples traveling to Emmaus (Luke 24:13-36), and privately to Peter (Luke 24:34). Now, it only remains for the rest of the Twelve to see.

1. Empowerment that Defines Mission (vv.19-23)

2. Encounter that Declares Truth (vv.24-29)

3. Evidence that Demands Decision (vv.30, 31)
