

“An Ancient Easter Faith”

Job 19:23-27

As we celebrate the Resurrection today almost 2000 years after the fact, there is a tremendous encouragement to be found from an ancient cry for Easter almost 2000 years before the fact. In the midst of troubles known by few men in history, Job affirms his core theology—“I know that my Redeemer lives!”

1. Demanding a Secure Legacy (vv.23, 24)

2. Declaring a Sure Hope (vv.25, 26)

3. Desiring a Singular Moment (v.27)
