

Ezekiel: Living Faith in Exile
“Called to Deliver Truth to Pagans”
Ezekiel 2:1-3:15

After receiving a vision of the Lord’s majesty, Ezekiel is commissioned as a prophet to the people of Judah in exile in Babylon. The task is extraordinarily difficult; but the available resources of God are always enough to accomplish the mission. The prophet’s timeless motivations call out to Evergreen in the present generation.

1. Motivated by Summons (2:1-7)

2. Motivated by Satisfaction (2:8-3:3)

3. Motivated by Sufficiency (3:4-11)

4. Motivated by Splendor (3:12-14a)

5. Motivated by Sureness (vv.14b, 15)
