

American Christianity: Shaping a Nation

“George Washington: Active Providence”

Micah 4:1-5; 5:7-9

The greatest and most influential of the American founding fathers, George Washington was the perfect man to lead the colonial army and serve as the first president. He was a man not given to seeking power and a leader deeply aware of his place in the providential plans of the Sovereign God for human history. America was shaped by his quiet faith and confidence.

1. Living in the Light of the Future (4:1-5)

2. Living in the Hope of the Lord (5:7-9)

3. Unshakable Faith of a President
