

Hey REVO Family,

If you've ever been in a waiting room somewhere while waiting on an appointment, you know that you need to work while you wait. You have forms to fill out, questions to answer, waivers to sign. If you don't do that, it will make the appointment you've made worthless. You will wait, wait, and wait some more, but never get the results for which you were hoping.

Similarly, the best way to do our 21 Days of Prayer in 2026 is to put in the work while you wait.

Sure, you can "check the box" by just reading the devotional and say the short prayer that is at the end of each page. Or you can only tune into the podcast and say that you've "checked the box" on REVO's 21 Days of Prayer.

For the best experience in The Waiting Room, however, we would recommend that you put some time into each aspect.

For example:

- 1- Get out your Bible and diligently read each passage. See what God might have to say to you through His word.
- 2- Then, don't settle for the short, pre-written prayer alone. Let that prayer be a starting point for you to take what you've read and pray in your own words to God.
- 3- As you read and pray, take notes.
- 4- After all that, turn on the REVO podcast to go a little deeper into each day and hear tips on prayer and waiting.
- 5- Don't let God's work in you stop with you. Share what you learn with someone in your family, re-post it on social media, or talk about it at work.

Let's put the work in and make sure we don't waste our waiting.

We Love You!
