

DNA: What Makes Us - Called to Do the Impossible

What's something you once thought you could never learn or do, but eventually tried?

Memory Verse: Matthew 19:26 NLT

"Jesus looked at them intently and said, 'Humanly speaking, it is impossible. But with God everything is possible.'"

Read: Ephesians 2:8–9, Judges 7:2, 2 Corinthians 4:7, James 1:5, Hebrews 11:6

What did you notice most from this message? Was there a statement, Scripture, story, or idea that stuck with you? Why do you think it grabbed your attention?

Looking at Matthew 19:26 and Ephesians 2:8–9, how does receiving salvation as a gift shape the way we think about serving God?

The sermon says, “God’s work must be done by God’s people, in God’s way and by God’s power, so that God gets the glory.” What might that look like in an ordinary week?

“Boldness without dependence is arrogance; dependence without boldness is passivity.” Which side do you tend toward, and how does it show up in your life?

When something feels beyond you, how do you sort out whether to take a step of faith, seek more wisdom, or change direction? What helps you listen to God?

Where are you trying to carry the whole weight of an outcome—perhaps in parenting, a relationship, or helping someone find Jesus? What is yours to do, and what do you need to entrust to God? How do you tell the difference?

The Moravian story highlights faithfulness through years of difficulty. What helps you keep obeying when the results are slow or different from what you hoped? How could this group support you?

Read: Hebrews 11:32-40

What do we do with the tension that God can do the impossible and the reality that faithful people sometimes suffer or never see the outcome they prayed for? How might that shape what we say to someone who is disappointed with God?

Take time to close in prayer. Pray for those who feel weak, overwhelmed, or discouraged. Ask God to strengthen our faith that we may strive to do the Impossible for Him!
