PEACE and New Life through Justification

Peace is freedom from disturbance. A peace filled life does not mean a life of no issues, success, or perfection. A peace filled life is one that in the midst of disturbance you are free from the worries that go along with it. Even in the midst of pain, fear, suffering, we can have peace, because Jesus has overcome the world. Our peace comes from justification; we are made right in the eyes of God by what Jesus did. Also, hope in the Glory of God. Hope in eternity, because Jesus has overcome the world. Suffering produces endurance that produces character that produces hope and hope does not put us to shame. In Christ our suffering does not produce shame, it produces hope. We all have the same access to peace and hope.

Group Discussion:

How do I apply what Jesus has done to my life so that I can live in the peace that overcame chaos?

Am I living in peace and the assurance that I am justified through Christ and my relationship with God has been restored?

Do I live with the hope of Eternity? Am I sharing that hope and reality with others?

What did God speak to you this week through the message and devotions?
