The Right Tool for the Job...

"To a man with a hammer, everything looks like a nail." Abraham Maslow

Growing up, I watched my dad, a very skilled carpenter, do amazing things with various tools and equipment. Later when I was training as an airplane mechanic, I learned how to use various tools for the different tasks involved in maintaining aircraft. Having and using the right tool for whatever task you are doing will always yield the best results.

FOCUS: AFRICA

Recently, I was on my Facebook account and came across a post from a friend who works as a Scripture Use Coordinator in South Sudan, Africa. We had met two years ago at a college recruitment event. She was asking for advice on microphones, specifically one that she could use for recording voices as well as singing. My background and experience in using different microphones and teaching recording techniques allowed me to give her some good recommendations that would work for her situation. This is just one example of how my new position as IMS Liaison for Africa Area can be used to help my colleagues.

Support Update

We have reached the 80% level of our Wycliffe ministry budget. We are excited about how the Lord is working and what He is going to do. If you would be interested in learning more about how you might become involved in our Wycliffe ministry, please reference the contact information on the right.

Would you prayerfully consider how you might become involved?

Prayer and Praise

A major water leak under our house made it necessary for us to replace all of the plumbing. PTL, it is almost done.

Marta is still in Portugal helping her parents. Pray for her to have wisdom and strength, and for her parents to adjust to the new living situation that will meet their needs.

David and Matias started university last week. Pray for a good experience for them.
