Reflection

1. In what relationships in your life do you find yourself seeking out a worldly justice rather than a Christ-oriented justice?
2. What do the words Mercy and Justice mean to you?
3. Is there a situation in your life where you realize that you are so focused on things being fair or right that you miss out on the opportunity to love well?
4. Pick someone in your life who you believe is marginalized or less fortunate than you are, and ask how you can be someone who provides a Jesus kind of justice to this world for that person.

BOTTOM LINE = the power of the Spirit is in you
