TAKE IT WITH YOU

Expected and unexpected people, the signpost people God allows to cross our paths, influence our journey. From parents to adults-like-parents, siblings to friends of siblings, school teachers and Sunday School teachers, friends and almost-friends, either brief or lasting, historical or current, God uses these encounters to speak to our lives. In his book Whisper, Mark Batterson calls this "the fifth love language of God... people."

God speaks regularly to us through the people who speak to us about the things of God. Henri Nouwen, Discernment

How frequently we forget or dismiss or overlook our many God-appointments; these are the people God sends with words of encouragement, applause for effort, signposts pointing to truth, reminders of His presence, hugs for tears. Batterson writes, "Part of the genius of Jesus was His ability to see potential in unlikely places and unlikely people."

Signpost people offer new perspectives, ask different questions, and suggest other options. Sometimes they bring opportunities for us, like a chance to give more, to step outside ourselves, to sense another's loneliness, to hear a deeper need, to respond like Christ. God embraces us with love and encouragement but also has designed us for purpose - His purpose. God asks us to take our God-given talents, to reach out into the world, to share Jesus.

Whether the turning point marks the way with a stranger or friend, lasts for a season or a lifetime, comes full of mystery or simply as a reminder, God is speaking to you and me. Could it be a completely new direction, a familiar path with a new attitude, a change of location, a closer connection within a current community, a new passion, or renewed passion?

Scripture is the primary voice of God to us, and Batterson cautions us, "A God-given dream won't take you beyond the boundaries of Scripture, but it will stretch you to do things you didn't know you were capable of even attempting." Within these divine appointments, we choose to embrace God's vision and purpose, or we choose to simply look the other way. What will you choose?

INFLUENCER

Our world is now home to "InfluencerRs" with social media skills, creating content which impacts trends and thoughts, as well as the culture and economy. The followers of Jesus were called to be Good InfluencerRs as His ambassadors, shaping the culture's thoughts about Jesus (II Corinthians 5:20). Centuries before Jesus' earthly appearance, Nehemiah was a Good Influencer shaping the culture of his day. Throughout the summer months, we will study his life to discover and apply the traits of a Good InfluencerR.

Nehemiah 1:1-4

Traits One and Two of a Good Influencer:

1. Acute _____

2. _____ Affinity

Influencer Prayer of the week:

God, let me see what you see. Move me to care about what you care about

Influence Assessment of the week (a thought exercise):

Seeing with Acute Perception

1. Currently, what do I see that troubles me?
2. Do I see what should be instead? What do I see that should be?

Caring with Passionate Affinity

3. Currently, what breaks my heart?
4. Is this something that also breaks God's heart? How so? How do I know this?

Influencer Reading for the week: Nehemiah 1 & 2
