- In this hour of history there are coalitions like this coming together all around the world. I will not be surprised a few years from now we will look back at 2020-21: 50 different groups had stories like this that are gathering over here over there... And we are going to bump into each other and go like “this was happening when we were doing it” Just wait 10 years from now and look back and we will be amazed at how much of this was happening globally! – Mike Bickle
