

PROJECT
COMMUNITIES

We realize in a church this size, it can be difficult meeting people. Tonight is the night where that can all change.

Joining a group is an amazing way in developing some awesome relationships. That's not all, in fact, our heart for small groups at The Project is to help you in developing your relationship with Christ. You may be at a place in life where you are struggling with your walk with God, you're lonely or you are wanting to learn more about the Bible. Our small groups are designed to help you grow spiritually while at the same time forming new friendships and having fun.

Throughout this booklet you'll find a bit of info on each group. Take a moment to check them out and sign up for a group of your choice in the lobby following the service.

It may be a bit daunting to join a group where you don't know anyone, but you never know what can happen to your life if you take a chance.

Welcome to Connecting Point.

The Bible tells us that we can't serve two masters as we will be devoted to one and despise the other. In today's society, pleasure, power, and love are often elevated. In his book Gods at War, Kyle Idleman goes into detail about how we can be tempted to go to these things before God, thus taking His place on the thrones of our lives. In this group, we will go into depth in Idleman's book, identifying and confronting any idols in our lives within the safety and support of genuine, intentional community.

Most new innovations and movements are started by “the young”; by people our age. Why? The young haven’t yet allowed the mundane to crowd out the voice within us that asks, “What if?!?” And what if you actually could lead, competently, yourself and others to something greater? That’s what this small group is about. We are going into Part 2 of our two-part leadership class that started last September and we’re opening up 15 more spots. And don’t worry, we’ll catch you up on Part 1! We will meet bi-weekly with opportunities to practice what we learn. Through various books, leadership videos, and discussion, we will all leave better able to lead ourselves and others.

This equally laid-back and exciting group is for those who want to meet new people, and might be ideal for the over-sharers and the "great listeners." Many evenings will have a hang-out time followed by a mini group/icebreaker game, a refill-your-coffee-cup break, then some organized discussion on a #struggle about which we then "talk about our feelings" on, and end with encouragement and an action plan. Some topics will include being more bold in social settings, loving those who are difficult to love, and facing a fear (like showing off sweat marks in a grey shirt at the gym or asking someone out for coffee). We will meet on and around campus, drink some delicious beverages, as well as discover sweet spots nearby for the general fun nights! Come see us at sign up!!

Too many of us walk through life feeling as if we don't measure up. We always seem to thirst for more. We think if we could only work harder or be better, we could be enough. But the truth is, we will never be enough. And thankfully, we don't have to be.

In this study called Proven, Jennie Allen walks through key passages in the Book of John to demonstrate how only Jesus is enough.

This study will challenge us, and encourage us to be intentional with one another in a place of vulnerability and belonging. We want to come along side you and walk through this season of life with you, no matter what struggles you are facing.

We seek to achieve this through weekly meet-ups where we encourage each other, study the Bible in various ways, pray for one another and just enjoy each other's company! As well as our weekly meet-ups, we try to stay connected throughout the week to help form deeper connections. If you like this vision and would like to join a welcoming Jesus loving community, come check out our booth! We'd love to meet you and answer any questions you may have!

This will be a safe place for people to ask real-time questions relating to what they're going through in the here and now. The goal is to provide relatable, immediately applicable advice and wisdom.
