

A painting depicting a family in a moment of emotional connection. A man with a beard and dark hair is shown from the chest up, embracing a woman and a young child. The woman is wearing a blue sleeveless top and has her arms around the man. The child, wearing a red shirt, is being held by the man. To the right, another woman with dark hair is shown in profile, looking towards the family with a joyful expression. The background is a textured, earthy brown and green. The overall style is expressive and somewhat somber, with visible brushstrokes and a focus on human figures.

Luke 18:15-17

“People were also bringing babies to Jesus for him to place his hands on them. When the disciples saw this, they rebuked them. But Jesus called the children to him and said

“Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these. Truly I tell you, anyone who will not receive the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it.”

“An argument started among the disciples as to which of them would be the greatest. Jesus, knowing their thoughts, took a little child and had him stand beside him.

Then he said to them, ‘Whoever welcomes this little child in my name welcomes me; and whoever welcomes me welcomes the one who sent me. For it is the one who is least among you all who is the greatest.’”
