

In today's passage, Paul challenges us to rethink what it means to follow Christ. The Christian life is not a competition where we strive to be the "superstar" or earn a place in the spotlight. Instead, Paul pictures us as captives being led in Christ's triumphal procession, with Jesus alone receiving the glory.

There are _____ more letters that Paul wrote to Corinth that we don't have.

The purpose of discipline is not to _____, but to _____ what is right.

_____ people should be _____ people.

When we choose not to forgive, we give _____ a _____ in our lives.

The one purpose of the Roman triumphal parade was to bring glory to the _____.

Since Christ is the victor of the church, we are not at the _____ of the parade; we are at the _____.

Everything we do in service to Christ puts off an _____ that shows people how _____ Christ is.