

Born Again

John 3:1-21

In today's passage, we witness a pivotal nighttime encounter between Jesus and Nicodemus, a prominent Pharisee who comes seeking truth in the darkness. This conversation reveals Jesus' profound teaching on being "born again" and culminates in one of Scripture's most beloved verses about God's love for the world, challenging us to understand the radical nature of spiritual transformation and divine grace.

- Jesus came to give us life, which means that we must actually live _____ him and _____ him and _____ him.
- We all come to Jesus _____, but the answers he gives us and the ways he shows us aren't usually the _____ answers or the _____ ways.
- Jesus calls us to _____, _____, and _____.
- Jesus wants to develop a deep, abiding _____ with us.
- To be born of the water and the Spirit means that God washes us clean of sin, then gives us a _____ heart as he _____ us with his Spirit.
