

What happens when we truly grasp the love of Christ? It changes us—and it compels us to live differently. In 2 Corinthians 5:11–21, Paul explains that the love of Christ is not merely something we receive; it is a powerful force that moves us into action. Because we are convinced of what Christ has done for us, we see ourselves and others differently, and we embrace our calling as Christ’s ambassadors.

Truly understanding the _____ of _____ becomes for us a powerful motivation.

Paul said we are _____ by the love of Christ.

Three things that Paul says about being _____:

1. We are compelled because we are _____. (5:14)
2. We are compelled by a new _____ on _____. (5:16)
3. We are compelled to share the _____ of _____. (5:18-20)

Two words connected to the responsibility of an ambassador:

1. _____
2. _____