Paul believed God when there was nothing else to believe. He couldn't believe the sailors. The ship, the sails, the wind, the centurion, human ingenuity, or anything else, only God. He believed God in the middle of the storm when circumstances were at their worst. Paul would say along with Job, (Job 13:15) "Though he slay me, yet I will trust Him.

The Storm and the danger were real, but God was more real to Paul than the dreadful circumstances.

Paul's unshakeable confidence in God made him a leader among men even though he was a prisoner of Rome.
