

Living Out Your Identity in Community

These are the identities that have the greatest influence on my life:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

It's not wrong to place these things at a level of importance, but the trouble occurs when the lesser identities become the main identity.

"God is the only one who has the authority to tell you who you are." – Sara Mae

What are the implications of abiding in our God-given identity?

Our identity will inform the faith community.

Our identity will encourage unity in the faith community.

Our identity will spur on maturity in the faith community.
