

Mothers & Others: Kingdom Impact | May 12, 2024

---

The influence that just one person can have on us is huge!

God has designed us to be influencers as well!

Omar Anaya: "Our most valuable lessons in life and most important growth happens when we put the needs of others before our own."

Sermon on the Mount recap

Jesus calls his followers to a deeper obedience. It's more than finding where the "do not cross" line is and rather doing the right things with the right heart posture.

Matthew 6:25-34 NIV

Do not worry...Really, Jesus?

God is our Father and He delights in caring for us!

Matt 6:19-21 ESV

To be kingdom-focused means we invest in building character, not comfort; and pour into people, not pile up possessions.

When we store up the wrong treasure, then worry will result.

Most of us battle worry, either during a stressful season of life or as a constant nagging companion lurking in the back of our consciousness. Jesus intends to free us from the misconception that worry and anxiety are normal in the life of a disciple, and to gently direct us to a better way: trusting in an infinitely good Father who knows and supplies perfectly the needs of His children. - Jen Wilkin, Sermon on the Mount

Give us this day our daily bread

What to do with worry? 1 Peter 5:6-7 AMP

What do you want your legacy to be?

Psalm 90:12

(Matthew 6:33)

(Matthew 6:33) AMP

A pure heart results in God-centered priorities, which then brings forth flourishing!

Turn worry into worship

See worry as an opportunity to trust the Father.

Sharing of stories – Mirjam & Kay

The boy who shared what was in his basket

We all have a basket of something we can offer!

Blessed are those who mourn for they will be comforted.

We are called to make disciples, no matter our age, stage of life, or profession.

Who has God placed in your circle of influence? How can you make those relationships impactful for eternity?
