

How to be a HERO

Part 1: How to Be a Hero

A hero's life is always dramatic. Truthfully, most of us have a love hate relationship with drama. We are attracted to drama in other people's lives, but we resist it in our own. Could it be possible that when we resist drama, we resist God?

Scripture - Exodus 14:5-16

BIG IDEA: The moments you hate most may be the moments in which God is writing the greatest story.

Discussion Questions

1. Who was your favorite superhero growing up? Why?
2. To what extent are you attracted to the drama in other people's lives (even in a great story line?)
3. Do you find yourself resisting drama in your own life? How? Why?
4. Describe the emotions you think you would have been feeling if you were one of the Israelites in the middle of the story told in Exodus 14:5-16.
5. Is there a dramatic part of your life right now that you simply hate? What is it?
6. Could it be that God is trying to do something in the middle of the drama that you dislike so much? What do you think God might be up to?

Moving Forward

This week, bring the circumstance you hate most before God in prayer. Rather than asking him to simply remove it, start asking him what he's doing in the middle of it. And if you're bold enough, ask God how he might want you to respond.
