

1 Samuel 16-17

6/3/26

Rev. Paul Farley

- For the Lord does not see as a man sees. The Lord looks at the heart
- Saul focused on appearance
- God works through those that trust Him
- He chooses differently than we do. He prepares people in hidden places
- God works through faith, rather than human strength
- God rejected Saul due to his disobedience
- God's leadership and plans continue even when human leadership fails
- God's plan is always going to move forward
- Men evaluate with their eyes.
- God sees the motives, attitudes, and character
- We can be overly impressed by image, talent, experience, or personality. But God looks deeper
- God values character, humility, obedience, and a heart yielded to Him
- The one that was overlooked by man was not overlooked by God
- God knows where His people are
- He can call us at the right time
- Your calling often comes before fulfillment
- God often times begins a work in someone's life long before anybody else can see it
- Service is often time part of God's preparation process
- David served faithfully in another man's house. He was willing to wait
- God can use ordinary assignments to develop future leaders.
