

Overlooking Our Faults

9/2/26

Pastor Page

Ephesians 4:30-32, Proverbs 4:32, Luke 6:45, Matthew 6:14-15, Matthew 5:38-42

- We tend to overlook forgiving one another. It's important to God!
- Apologizing is hard
- Admitting our faults threatens our view of ourselves and exposes us to rejection
- If you believed every word in the Bible, it would change your perspective
- The Word of God is sharper than any two edged sword- cuts going in and out
- We must strive to live according to the Bible
- Don't compromise Truth to satisfy friends
- Offer grace
- You cannot separate your relationship with God from how you treat people
- How you handle hurt is how you control things
- We forgive because we've been forgiven
- When I remember what God has forgiven me for, it becomes much harder to justify holding someone else hostage to what they did to me
- Calvary becomes the measuring stick
- He showed mercy when we didn't deserve it. He loved us when we were unreachable
- A Spirit filled individual should produce a Spirit-effective attitude
- We fail to acknowledge how difficult forgiveness can be