Community Group Questions: James 1:19-2:26

- Did you ever ask your parents for advice but disregarded it?
 - If so, how did they react to that?
 - And, how did it work out for you?
- When you read the Bible, how do you find the right advice for various situations?
- Some people find it difficult to apply situations from the ancient world of the Bible into the modern world where we live. How do you handle that challenge?
- Many people give up trying to read the Bible when they struggle with these challenges. What helps you to stay resilient with a Bible reading habit?
- So much truth seems to be “caught” rather than “taught.” Who has been a helpful example to you about how to “follow Christ” in a faithful way?
- Many instructions in the Bible are very clear. What has helped you to put those clear teachings into practice in a routine/habitual way?
- How does “mercy triumph over judgment” when your “holy habits” are not as consistent as you’d like them to be? In other words, how do you remain resilient when you struggle to do the right thing?
