Community Group Questions: Acts 2:1-13

1. Talk about your experience with people who speak other languages. Have they been more funny or frustrating?
2. What other language have you tried to learn? What was challenging about that experience? What was meaningful about it?
3. Some would say it is more challenging to understand another culture than it is to understand another language. What do you think about that?
4. As Christians, we believe in absolute and objective truth. But we also believe God made the world a diverse place on purpose. What are some principles that help you to determine God's standards that apply to all cultures and God's freedom to allow cultural flexibility?
5. As you evaluate your own American subculture, what seems to reflect the heart of God really well? What seems to fall short of God's heart for us?
6. What stories from "the mission field" have made a big impact on your faith?
7. How would it change your daily life to begin looking at your own city, neighborhood or workplace as a "mission field?"
8. Pray for your city together.
