Community Group Questions: Isaiah 8:19-9:7

- As a society, how do we decide what is true and reliable?
- As a society, how do we feel about the many things that continue to be mysterious or unclear?
- As an individual, how do you determine what you can believe and what you need to be suspicious of in today's Information Age?
- As a believer, we are not promised certainty. But we are encouraged to have confidence by faith along with humility. We are challenged to love God with our minds and also to allow our minds to be transformed/renewed. How do you balance those qualities in your approach to life?
- As a believer, how do you see the relationship between faith and science?
- List some areas where you are confident in the ways that science helps us.
- List some areas where you believe science should show more humility.
- Read John 3:16-17, Romans 1:20, Ephesians 1:9-10, Colossians 1:15-17, and Revelation 21:1-5. According to these passages, how could the relationship between faith and science be stronger because of Jesus?
