The Vow Factor Week Two:

1. What differences between you and your partner feel cute and quirky?
2. What differences don't feel so cute?
3. Do you believe "opposites attract?" Why or why not?
4. How would you counsel a young couple to evaluate their compatibility before getting married?
5. As you have walked through different seasons of life together with your partner, what has changed in your relationship?
6. What has helped you to handle those changes by growing together instead of growing apart?
7. Name one thing your partner does effectively that encourages you to "turn back and reach out" when your relationship is under stress.
