PROJECT LOVE

Helping Families in Crisis; Keeping Kids in Families

Short term solutions having lasting results.

We received a call from the school that several families were in serious need of food. We purchased ten food bundles and drove them to the next region over to the school where the head master was able to get all the families these life-changing food bundles. Thank you for helping with this. We have a passionate goal to expand this ministry to the next level. Continue to pray with us for more missionaries to help with this, for a budget to hire social workers, and for staff to oversee this amazing ministry.

Speaking Life in Tanzania

It was awesome to be back preaching, teaching, and doing what I do in Tanzania this past February.

I have returned to Maine for a few months, and will be heading back to Tanzania in May with the children.

Did you hear about our amazing trip to the bush and how God set us up to meet 7 pastors within 10 minutes of arriving and we agreed to work together? It was incredible.

FIRE AFRICA

A 10-week Internship program serving in Tanzania

Sharing God's love through practical serving

Spreading the word- We have an internship, and you can come.

If you or someone you know would like to do an internship and get into full-time missions, please have them go to www.fire-africa.com and email us to come do a 10-week internship with us.

If you would like to join a team that is coming this summer. You can do that too. Email me at omaris.tanzania for more information or check out the www.fire-africa.com website.

FAMILY UPDATE

We came home to:

1. Raise support: Slow to start but now on track. This was slow because honestly, we have served overseas for the children's entire lives, they were not used to America, and it was a cultural challenge. For the first time, we dealt with teen depression and hard talks were had. It was very scary for me as a parent. This is VERY COMMON for 3rd culture kids and I sought a therapist to help with advice, the school supported us, a lot of prayers happened, and the children's pediatrician made some calls to help the children get pro-bono ski passes. I know this sounds funny! But skiing brought HOPE. We found out that Acacia can not eat enriched foods. Now that she has changed her diet, she is absorbing iron and vitamin B, feeling amazing, and is back to being my "take over the world" Acacia. She woke up one day and said, "I need to speak with the vice president." Haha, I knew she was back. (This month I am finally able to start meeting, preaching, and teaching as I just got back from Tanzania.)
2. Get Enoch and Noella settled in the USA: Success Their citizenship had a hang-up but they did get work visas. They have since finished their driver's ed courses and are working on getting licenses and learning to drive. (Pray for me as I am now a driver's ed teacher to them). Enoch builds million-dollar homes and works with an awesome godly group of men. He loves his job. He is freezing but loves it. Noella works at Walgreens and loves her job equally. They are both saving for cars and trying to find a friend in Maine. We live kind of rural, so pray for them.
3. Build a USA-based team to help expand the Tanzania base vision to start a FIRE AFRICA and expand PROJECT LOVE: Success would be an understatement of this! Thank you, Jesus. We have Paula Keck from Texas, Taphath Canon from Colorado, and NOW Chris and Jamie Bottoms from Alaska and we are looking for 1 more couple and a few more individuals to help. Reach out if you want to join us. We are blasting through our lists and things are going amazing. This is full time and it is full-on.
4. Expand Project Love and Launch the Internship Program: Success I was nervous to be abroad at first, but then it just started to work. I have teams on the ground that make this possible: a national team and an international team. They are amazing and make this all possible. The internship program is going to be awesome.

Overall this season of life has been incredibly awesome and a tad scary. Thank you for investing in the kingdom and believing in me. The best is still to come.
