"Whoever can be trusted with very little can also be trusted with much, and whoever is dishonest with very little will also be dishonest with much."

Luke 16:10

It is the responsibility of each follower of Christ to steward wisely what God has given to him/her. I have many plans, but God is the director of my steps. Recently, the Lord has been opening doors for me to minister in a very unique way. I have been given the opportunity of pouring into several pastors' kids who are grown up and are in need of mentoring. I believe this is directly in response to my prayer that God would make me ready for the calling on my life. Hearing their stories, praying with them, and simply spending time together has shown me just how often they have been overlooked. There have been some hard conversations and some tough questions, but I feel myself thriving in this particular area of ministry.

Prayer Requests:

- 1. Monthly support still needed: $900
- 2. Wisdom

Another exciting and recent development is the launching of my business guild. Although I do make and sell my own handmade products, the purpose of this particular guild is to provide backing for local artists who want to sell their products. Within our church community, we have many gifted painters, seamstresses, jewelry makers, and so on. I, along with several other of my local ministry partners and friends, have been very focused on how we can help our church community thrive. With the Dream Center coming into being, we want to be ready for God to give us a place where we can run our business. Please pray that the timing will align and that we will be able to make this dream happen!
