

Happy New Year!

“For we are God’s handiwork, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do.” Eph. 2:10

Aloha from Na’alehu!

Happy New Year! I had an awesome Christmas break in Minnesota connecting with people who have a heart for Israel. Plot twist: turns out they are a Jewish family who now live in Israel. Apparently, they had lived in Israel for a time but are now in Minnesota.

My classmate who invited me to visit also introduced me to a friend of hers who she has been sharing Jesus with. We had so much fun together and were able to connect with and be a light to her!

This year, we also have Israeli soldiers who are visiting our school! They will be staying with us for three months, healing and taking some time to rest.

They’re all really sweet and I’m excited to see what God has in store for all of us!

I will also be making a trip to Oahu next month! I was invited to do a book reading at a festival and advertise some of the things that I’ve written. My hope is that the stories I write will reach people that may not always step into a church.

Since I have extra time during the trip, I plan to visit one of the churches that Ekballo connected with. I’ve had some dreams and words about Oahu even before the first semester started, and I’m looking forward to seeing what God will do!

As all of these things are going on, I would so appreciate all of your prayers!

Here are some things you can pray for:

- God’s purposes to be fulfilled through Ekballo and the Israeli soldiers visiting us
- That the right people would find my books during the book festival (Oahu) and encounter Jesus! Also for divine connections with other believers as I decide on which church to visit

As always, all of your support and prayers are so appreciated!

Thank you so much!!!
