New immigrants from France arrive to the Ben Gurion

allisraelnews

Despite Israel's ongoing wars, aliyah – immigration to Israel – from Western countries reached one of its highest levels in modern Israeli history in 2025, according to a report released on Sunday by Israel's Ministry of Aliyah and Integration.

The report shows that 22,522 people immigrated to Israel in 2025, roughly 10,000 fewer than in 2024.

However, immigrants from the United States, the United Kingdom, France and Canada accounted for 38% of all new arrivals, up sharply from 21% the previous year.

The findings suggest a significant demographic shift, with growing numbers of young professionals and families from Western democracies choosing to build their lives in Israel even as the country continues to contend with war and regional instability.

Among the report's other findings, about 40% of immigrants from Western countries were between the ages of 18 and 35, with many arriving as part of family units. Many also held professional degrees.

³ Now as He sat on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to Him privately, saying, “Tell us, when will these things be? And what will be the sign of Your coming, and of the end of the age?”

Knowledge Shall Increase

Daniel 12:2–4 (NKJV)

² And many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, Some to everlasting life, Some to shame and everlasting contempt. ³ Those who are wise shall shine Like the brightness of the firmament, And those who turn many to righteousness Like the stars forever and ever. ⁴ “But you, Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book until the time of the end; many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall increase.”

Knowledge Shall Increase

Revelation 11:7–10 (NKJV)

⁷ When they finish their testimony, the beast that ascends out of the bottomless pit will make war against them, overcome them, and kill them. ⁸ And their dead bodies will lie in the street of the great city which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified. ⁹ Then those from the peoples, tribes, tongues, and nations will see their dead bodies three-and-a-half days, and not allow their dead bodies to be put into graves. ¹⁰ And those who dwell on the earth will rejoice over them, make merry, and send gifts to one another, because these two prophets tormented those who dwell on the earth.

Revelation 11:11–12 (NKJV)

¹¹ Now after the three-and-a-half days the breath of life from God entered them, and they stood on their feet, and great fear fell on those who saw them. ¹² And they heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, “Come up here.” And they ascended to heaven in a cloud, and their enemies saw them.

Revelation 1:7–8 (NKJV)

⁷ Behold, He is coming with clouds, and every eye will see Him, even they who pierced Him. And all the tribes of the earth will mourn because of Him. Even so, Amen. ⁸ “I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End,” says the Lord, “who is and who was and who is to come, the Almighty.”

3 Things Not to be Unaware Of

There are 3 things that God says He does not want us to be ignorant (unaware) of:

1. His working with the Nation of Israel - (Romans 11)
2. Spiritual Gifts - (1 Corinthians 12)
3. His Second Coming (which means Last Days, for that is when He comes, in the Last Days of earth) - (1 Thessalonians 4)

- Romans 11:25–26 (NKJV) ⁵ For I do not desire, brethren, that you should be ignorant of this mystery, lest you should be wise in your own opinion, that blindness in part has happened to Israel until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. ²⁶ And so all Israel will be saved, as it is written: “The Deliverer will come out of Zion, And He will turn away ungodliness from Jacob;
- 1 Corinthians 12:1 (NKJV) ¹ Now concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I do not want you to be ignorant:
- 1 Thessalonians 4:13–18 (NKJV) ¹³ But I do not want you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning those who have fallen asleep, lest you sorrow as others who have no hope. ¹⁴ For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so God will bring with Him those who sleep in Jesus. ¹⁵ For this we say to you by the word of the Lord, that we who are alive and remain until the coming of the Lord will by no means precede those who are asleep. ¹⁶ For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of an archangel, and with the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. ¹⁷ Then we who are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And thus we shall always be with the Lord. ¹⁸ Therefore comfort one another with these words.

(Matthew 24:5 NKJV) "For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and will deceive many.

Matthew 24:24–25 (NKJV) ²⁴ For false christs and false prophets will rise and show great signs and wonders to deceive, if possible, even the elect. ²⁵ See, I have told you beforehand.

People would mock about the last days and not believe-2 Peter 3:3; Jude 18.

2 Peter 3:3–4 (NKJV) ³ knowing this first: that scoffers will come in the last days, walking according to their own lusts, ⁴ and saying, “Where is the promise of His coming? For since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of creation.”

Franklin Graham Sounds the Alarm: Christians Are Falling Into Satan's Trap

BILLY HALLOWELL

The Rev. Franklin Graham believes understanding God's word is key to comprehending what's happening in the world around us, and warned that people who fail to understand are prey to spiritual

"If you don't know God's Word, you're not gonna recognize spiritual warfare," he said. "You'll just succumb to the attacks of the devil and not even be aware that you've been attacked."

And Graham said this is particularly problematic for Christians whom Satan seeks to go after.

"The devil is wanting to trap every believer, every Christian, and if he can just get them into apathy, where just they kind of don't care, then he wins," he said. "We have to know the Word of God, we have to study, and the devil is a deceiver, and he deceives Christians every day."

Graham said many believers face attack and cited Erika Kirk, widow of Charlie Kirk, as one such individual.

The US paradoxically imports and exports oil for several key reasons:

- Refinery Mismatch: Most of the US crude extracted from places like the Permian Basin (Texas) is light and sweet. However, many US refineries (especially on the Gulf and West coasts) were built decades ago to process heavy, sour crude from countries like Canada, Mexico, and Saudi Arabia.

- Global Economics: Oil is a global commodity. It is often cheaper for a US refinery on the East Coast to buy crude via tanker from a nearby foreign source than to pay to pipe it across the country from Texas. Reddit +3
- Profitable Exports: Because many foreign refineries (like those in India and the Netherlands) are specifically designed to process the exact type of light crude the US produces in abundance, US companies can sell this oil abroad at a premium.

The Dangerous Theology Behind Iran's Nuclear Ambitions

- Iranian leaders follow a radical interpretation of Islamic prophecy centered on the return of the 12th Imam, the Mahdi
- Understanding Iran's apocalyptic worldview is critical for American Christians as tensions escalate in the Middle East

About 20 years ago, then-president of Iran, Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, stated in an interview that he experienced a supernatural experience during a speech he gave at the United Nations. This revelation offered a rare glimpse into the spiritual beliefs that animate Iran's most powerful leaders—beliefs that have profound implications for global security and America's national interests.

The former Iranian president described what he believed was a divine encounter, claiming he felt surrounded by an aura of light during his address to world leaders. This wasn't merely the boastful claim of a political figure seeking attention; it reflected a deeply held belief that shapes Iranian policy.

 FAITH + FREEDOM

Iran's leadership adheres to a radical interpretation of Shia Islamic eschatology centered on the imminent return of the 12th Imam, known as the Mahdi or the "Hidden Imam." According to this belief system, the Mahdi disappeared in the 9th century and will return during a time of chaos and upheaval to establish global Islamic rule.

What makes this belief system particularly dangerous is the conviction held by some Iranian leaders that they can—and should—hasten the Mahdi's return by creating the very chaos and conflict prophesied to precede his appearance. This apocalyptic worldview provides a theological justification for destabilizing actions throughout the Middle East and beyond.

For American Christians, understanding this theological framework is essential. While we await the true return of Jesus Christ, Iran's leaders pursue a false messianic vision that fuels aggression against Israel, support for terrorist organizations, and the pursuit of nuclear weapons capabilities.

The contrast between Christian hope and Iran's apocalyptic ambitions couldn't be starker. Christians are called to be peacemakers, to pray for our enemies, and to trust in God's sovereignty over human history. faithfreedomreport.com by contrast, embraces a theology that glorifies

The contrast between Christian hope and Iran's apocalyptic ambitions couldn't be starker. Christians are called to be peacemakers, to pray for our enemies, and to trust in God's sovereignty over human history. Iran's radical leadership, by contrast, embraces a theology that glorifies martyrdom, celebrates conflict, and seeks to impose religious rule through violence and intimidation.

This isn't merely an academic theological discussion—it has real-world consequences. Iran's proxy forces operate throughout Lebanon, Syria, Iraq, Yemen, and Gaza, destabilizing the region and threatening both Israel and American interests. The regime's pursuit of nuclear weapons takes on an even more ominous dimension when viewed through the lens of their eschatological beliefs.

American policymakers have often struggled to comprehend the religious motivations driving Iranian actions, preferring to interpret Tehran's behavior through purely rational or geopolitical frameworks. But Iran's leaders have repeatedly demonstrated that their apocalyptic theology is not mere rhetoric—it shapes their strategic calculations and long-term objectives.

FAITH + FREEDOM

The Islamic Republic's continued support for terrorism, its threats against Israel, and its defiance of international norms regarding nuclear development all flow from this toxic combination of radical theology and political power. When leaders believe they are divinely appointed to usher in a new messianic age, traditional diplomatic incentives and deterrents may prove insufficient.

For Christians, this reality underscores the importance of standing with Israel, supporting a strong American defense posture, and recognizing the spiritual dimensions of conflicts that secular analysts often overlook. The battle against Iran's revolutionary regime isn't simply about competing national interests—it involves fundamentally incompatible visions of truth, justice, and human destiny.

Prayer remains our most powerful weapon. We must pray for the protection of Israel, for wisdom for American leaders, for the safety of Christians throughout the Middle East, and even for the Iranian people themselves, who suffer under a repressive theocratic regime that has squandered their nation's potential in pursuit of a false messiah.

Prayer remains our most powerful weapon. We must pray for the protection of Israel, for wisdom for American leaders, for the safety of Christians throughout the Middle East, and even for the Iranian people themselves, who suffer under a repressive theocratic regime that has squandered their nation's potential in pursuit of a false messiah.

The Iranian leadership's belief in hastening the return of their hidden imam stands in stark contrast to the Christian understanding of Christ's return, which will happen according to God's perfect timing, not through human manipulation or violence. Christians are called to be ready, to live righteously, and to spread the Gospel—not to create chaos in a misguided attempt to force God's hand.

As tensions continue to simmer in the Middle East, understanding the theological convictions that drive Iran's behavior becomes increasingly critical. The false messiah driving Iran's revolutionary regime poses a genuine threat not only to regional stability but to the values of freedom, faith, and human dignity that Americans hold dear.

Matthew 24:9–13 (NKJV)

⁹ “Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and kill you, and you will be hated by all nations for My name’s sake. ¹⁰ And then many will be offended, will betray one another, and will hate one another. ¹¹ Then many false prophets will rise up and deceive many. ¹² And because lawlessness will abound, the love of many will grow cold. ¹³ But he who endures to the end shall be saved.

Revelation 13:1–8 (NKJV)

¹ Then I stood on the sand of the sea. And I saw a beast rising up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and on his horns ten crowns, and on his heads a blasphemous name. ² Now the beast which I saw was like a leopard, his feet were like the feet of a bear, and his mouth like the mouth of a lion. The dragon gave him his power, his throne, and great authority. ³ And I saw one of his heads as if it had been mortally wounded, and his deadly wound was healed. And all the world marveled and followed the beast. ⁴ So they worshiped the dragon who gave authority to the beast; and they worshiped the beast, saying, "Who is like the beast? Who is able to make war with him?" ⁵ And he was given a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies, and he was given authority to continue for forty-two months. ⁶ Then he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme His name, His tabernacle, and those who dwell in heaven. ⁷ It was granted to him to make war with the saints and to overcome them. And authority was given him over every tribe, tongue, and nation. ⁸ All who dwell on the earth will worship him, whose names have not been written in the Book of Life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

Revelation 13:11–17 (NKJV)

¹¹ Then I saw another beast coming up out of the earth, and he had two horns like a lamb and spoke like a dragon. ¹² And he exercises all the authority of the first beast in his presence, and causes the earth and those who dwell in it to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed. ¹³ He performs great signs, so that he even makes fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men. ¹⁴ And he deceives those who dwell on the earth—by those signs which he was granted to do in the sight of the beast, telling those who dwell on the earth to make an image to the beast who was wounded by the sword and lived. ¹⁵ He was granted power to give breath to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak and cause as many as would not worship the image of the beast to be killed. ¹⁶ He causes all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on their right hand or on their foreheads, ¹⁷ and that no one may buy or sell except one who has the mark or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

Revelation 17:1–6 (NKJV)

¹ Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and talked with me, saying to me, "Come, I will show you the judgment of the great harlot who sits on many waters, ² with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth were made drunk with the wine of her fornication." ³ So he carried me away in the Spirit into the wilderness. And I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast which was full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. ⁴ The woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations and the filthiness of her fornication. ⁵ And on her forehead a name was written: MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH ⁶ I saw the woman, drunk with the blood of the saints and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I marveled with great amazement.

UK Proposes Law That Could Make Christian Prayer a Crime

- The UK government's draft Conversion Practices Bill could criminalize prayer, pastoral counseling, and even parental advice on matters of sexuality and gender identity
- Christians seeking help with unwanted same-sex attraction or gender confusion could face legal barriers to receiving biblical counsel and prayer support
- The proposed law threatens to impose prison sentences of up to two years for clergy, counselors, and parents who provide faith-based guidance in line with traditional Christian teaching

A troubling new proposal from the United Kingdom government threatens to fundamentally undermine religious freedom and parental rights across Britain. The draft Conversion Practices Bill, currently under consideration, could make it a criminal offense for Christians to pray with someone struggling with unwanted same-sex attraction or gender confusion.

Ciarán Kelly of The Christian Institute warns that the sweeping legislation goes far beyond targeting coercive practices. Instead, it could criminalize ordinary expressions of Christian faith and family life.

A troubling new proposal from the United Kingdom government threatens to fundamentally undermine religious freedom and parental rights across Britain. FAITH + FREEDOM

Ciarán Kelly of The Christian Institute warns that the sweeping legislation goes far beyond targeting coercive practices. Instead, it could criminalize ordinary expressions of Christian faith and family life.

Under the proposed law, requests for pastoral support from a minister, spiritual guidance from a church leader, or even a parent's advice to their own child could result in criminal prosecution. The bill's vague language and broad scope have alarmed religious liberty advocates who see it as a direct assault on the freedom to live according to biblical principles.

The legislation would effectively prevent Christians who experience same-sex attraction or gender dysphoria from seeking help rooted in their faith. Someone who voluntarily asks their pastor for prayer or counsel about aligning their life with Scripture could inadvertently cause that pastor to face criminal charges.

This represents a dramatic government overreach into the most intimate areas of personal faith and family relationships. Parents who raise their children according to Christian sexual ethics could be prosecuted simply for having conversations with their own s

The proposed penalties are severe: up to two years in prison for anyone found guilty of engaging in what the government deems a "conversion practice." This could include clergy offering biblical counsel, Christian therapists providing faith-based support, or parents exercising their God-given responsibility to guide their children.

Religious freedom advocates point out that the bill fails to distinguish between coercive, abusive behavior—which everyone opposes—and loving, voluntary spiritual guidance requested by individuals seeking to live according to their deeply held beliefs. By conflating these vastly different scenarios, the law threatens to criminalize core Christian practices that have been part of church ministry for two millennia.

The Christian Institute and other religious liberty organizations are calling on the UK government to abandon this dangerous legislation. They argue that in a free society, individuals must retain the right to seek counsel that aligns with their own religious convictions, and faith leaders must be free to provide that guidance without fear of prosecution.

This proposal represents yet another example of secular governments attempting to regulate religious b

Buckingham Palace has updated the official description of King Charles' duties to reflect Britain's multi-faith society.

JEWISH News

The revised wording appears in the newly published Sovereign Grant Annual Report and Accounts 2025-26, which states: "His Majesty is Supreme Governor of the Church of England and protects the space for Faith within the multi-faith nation."

The wording replaces the description used in last year's report, which referred to the monarch as "Head of the Church of England and Defender of the Faith." The King's constitutional role has not changed, and he continues to hold the historic title of Defender of the Faith.

Vatican Pushes Unity, Ignores Truth

70 Shares

During a recent visit to Türkiye (formerly Turkey), Pope Leo XIV became the third pope to enter Istanbul's Blue Mosque. However, unlike his predecessors, he not only visited the significant Islamic site but took it a step further—he approved of it.

During his tour, he was accompanied by local Muslim leaders and officials and spent time inside the mosque in quiet reflection. The Vatican later described the moment this way: "[The Pope entered] in silence, in a spirit of recollection and attentive listening, with deep respect for the place and for the faith of those who gather there in prayer."

Afterward, Pope Leo went further, referring to the mosque as a "space proper to God," describing it as a place for people to seek "the presence of the Most High."

However, even many Catholics rejected this statement. Biblical Christianity and Islam disagree on nearly every major tenet. Islam rejects Christ as the Son of God and rejects His deity altogether. These are two of the biggest foundational differences. Yet Pope Leo chose to focus on the nonexistent "shared values" of reverence, prayer, and seeking God.

Unity Through "Full Communion"

Later during the same trip, Pope Leo traveled to the Patriarchal Church of Saint George where he joined Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew I in a prayer service. The meeting focused heavily on "Christian unity" and the relationship between Rome and Eastern Orthodoxy.

Referring to Christ's prayer "that all His disciples may be one" he pushed for visible unity and encouraged renewed efforts toward "full communion among all Christians." He did not, however, discuss what it truly means to be a disciple of Christ.

The meeting concluded with Pope Leo and Patriarch Bartholomew signing a joint declaration reaffirming shared commitment to "Christian unity" and peace—but not to biblical doctrine or truth.

Christians and Muslims Called to Work Together

The emphasis on interfaith "unity" did not stop in Türkiye. Shortly afterward, Pope Leo met with participants attending an interfaith conference and again called for greater cooperation between religions.

During the gathering, he urged Christians and Muslims to "revive humanity where it has grown cold" and "transform indifference into solidarity." He also described compassion and empathy as "essential attitudes" shared by both Christianity and Islam.

His message centered heavily on joining together for a shared social mission and common purpose—but what common purpose could Catholics have with Muslims?

Iraq has an important role to play in the Arab world, Jordan's King Abdullah told the country's new Prime Minister in Amman, after a change of power in Baghdad brought in a more pro-Iranian government.

It was Mohammed Shia Al Sudani's first foreign trip since he took office last month. The king received him at the airport, underlying the importance the two countries have placed on improving ties.

King Abdullah told Mr Al Sudani during talks between the two men that he wished for the Iraqi Prime Minister "to succeed in his missions", the official Jordanian news agency said.

The Mark of the Beast

Revelation 13:16–18 (NKJV)

¹⁶ He causes all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on their right hand or on their foreheads, ¹⁷ and that no one may buy or sell except one who has the mark or the name of the beast, or the number of his name. ¹⁸ Here is wisdom. Let him who has understanding calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man: His number is 666.

Revelation 11:7–10 (NKJV)

⁷ When they finish their testimony, the beast that ascends out of the bottomless pit will make war against them, overcome them, and kill them. ⁸ And their dead bodies will lie in the street of the great city which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified. ⁹ Then those from the peoples, tribes, tongues, and nations will see their dead bodies three-and-a-half days, and not allow their dead bodies to be put into graves. ¹⁰ And those who dwell on the earth will rejoice over them, make merry, and send gifts to one another, because these two prophets tormented those who dwell on the earth.

Revelation 11:11–12 (NKJV)

¹¹ Now after the three-and-a-half days the breath of life from God entered them, and they stood on their feet, and great fear fell on those who saw them. ¹² And they heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, “Come up here.” And they ascended to heaven in a cloud, and their enemies saw them.

Revelation 1:7–8 (NKJV)

⁷ Behold, He is coming with clouds, and every eye will see Him, even they who pierced Him. And all the tribes of the earth will mourn because of Him. Even so, Amen. ⁸ “I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End,” says the Lord, “who is and who was and who is to come, the Almighty.”

AI’s computational resources, or “compute,” are a primary driver of the technology’s growing resource footprint. This includes things such as memory, processing power, and specialized hardware. Many AI models run on cloud computing, most of which is provided by one of three tech giants: Amazon Web Services, Microsoft Azure, and Google Cloud Platform.

According to Usage AI, those three companies alone represent around 68 percent of total global cloud compute spending, giving rise to the term “hyperscalers.”

Hyperscale facilities come with significantly higher resource demands, and there are an estimated 670 of these facilities planned in 2026, iRecruit.co reports.

A growing number of Americans are using AI every day, with nearly half using some kind of AI chatbot regularly. Roughly one in four U.S. adults use these tools on a daily basis, according to a 2026 Pew Research Center study.

AI 'Kill Switch' Bill Floated by House Lawmakers

July 23, 2026

Homeland Security officials would have the power to order AI firms to shut down models that put human life or the economy at risk under legislation proposed by a bipartisan pair of House lawmakers — days after AI firm OpenAI announced one of its models had gone rogue.

It would empower the Department of Homeland Security to intervene in what the bill calls a "loss-of-control scenario," defined as the AI model carrying out a risky action that was not intended by the developer, according to the text of the bill.

The lawmakers announced the legislation days after OpenAI said its AI agent went rogue during a security test and triggered a hack that compromised the infrastructure of AI startup Hugging Face.

There are enough coal resources in federally managed public lands across the United States to meet the country's demand for at least 600 years at the current consumption rate, the Department of the Interior (DOI) said in a July 23 statement.

The assessment is based on a U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) report on coal resources in federal lands published on Thursday. According to the report, the conterminous United States has more than 355 billion short tons of available coal resources in federal lands. One short ton is equivalent to 2,000 pounds.

Alaska has an estimated 140 billion short tons and may have up to 5.5 trillion short tons when considering factors such as undiscovered resources.

U.S. Secretary of State Marco Rubio looks on as President Donald Trump speaks at a press conference during the G7 Leaders' Summit in Evian-les-Bains, France, on June 17, 2026.

U.S. Secretary of State Marco Rubio warned Nicaragua after its socialist leader, Daniel Ortega, announced that the Central American country will abolish elections.

“The Trump Administration and the international community will not stand by as the Murillo-Ortega dictatorship deepens repression at home and manufactures instability that threatens U.S. national security,” Rubio posted on X on July 21. “Ortega’s pledge to abolish elections in Nicaragua proves his cowardice and fear of the Nicaraguan people’s will.”

Rubio’s post comes after Ortega said on July 19 that Nicaragua will no longer allow voting.
