

A dark, moody photograph of a person's feet in sneakers, with the text overlaid. The background is a close-up of a person's feet wearing dark sneakers with light-colored laces, set against a dark, textured surface. The lighting is low, creating a sense of depth and focus on the feet.

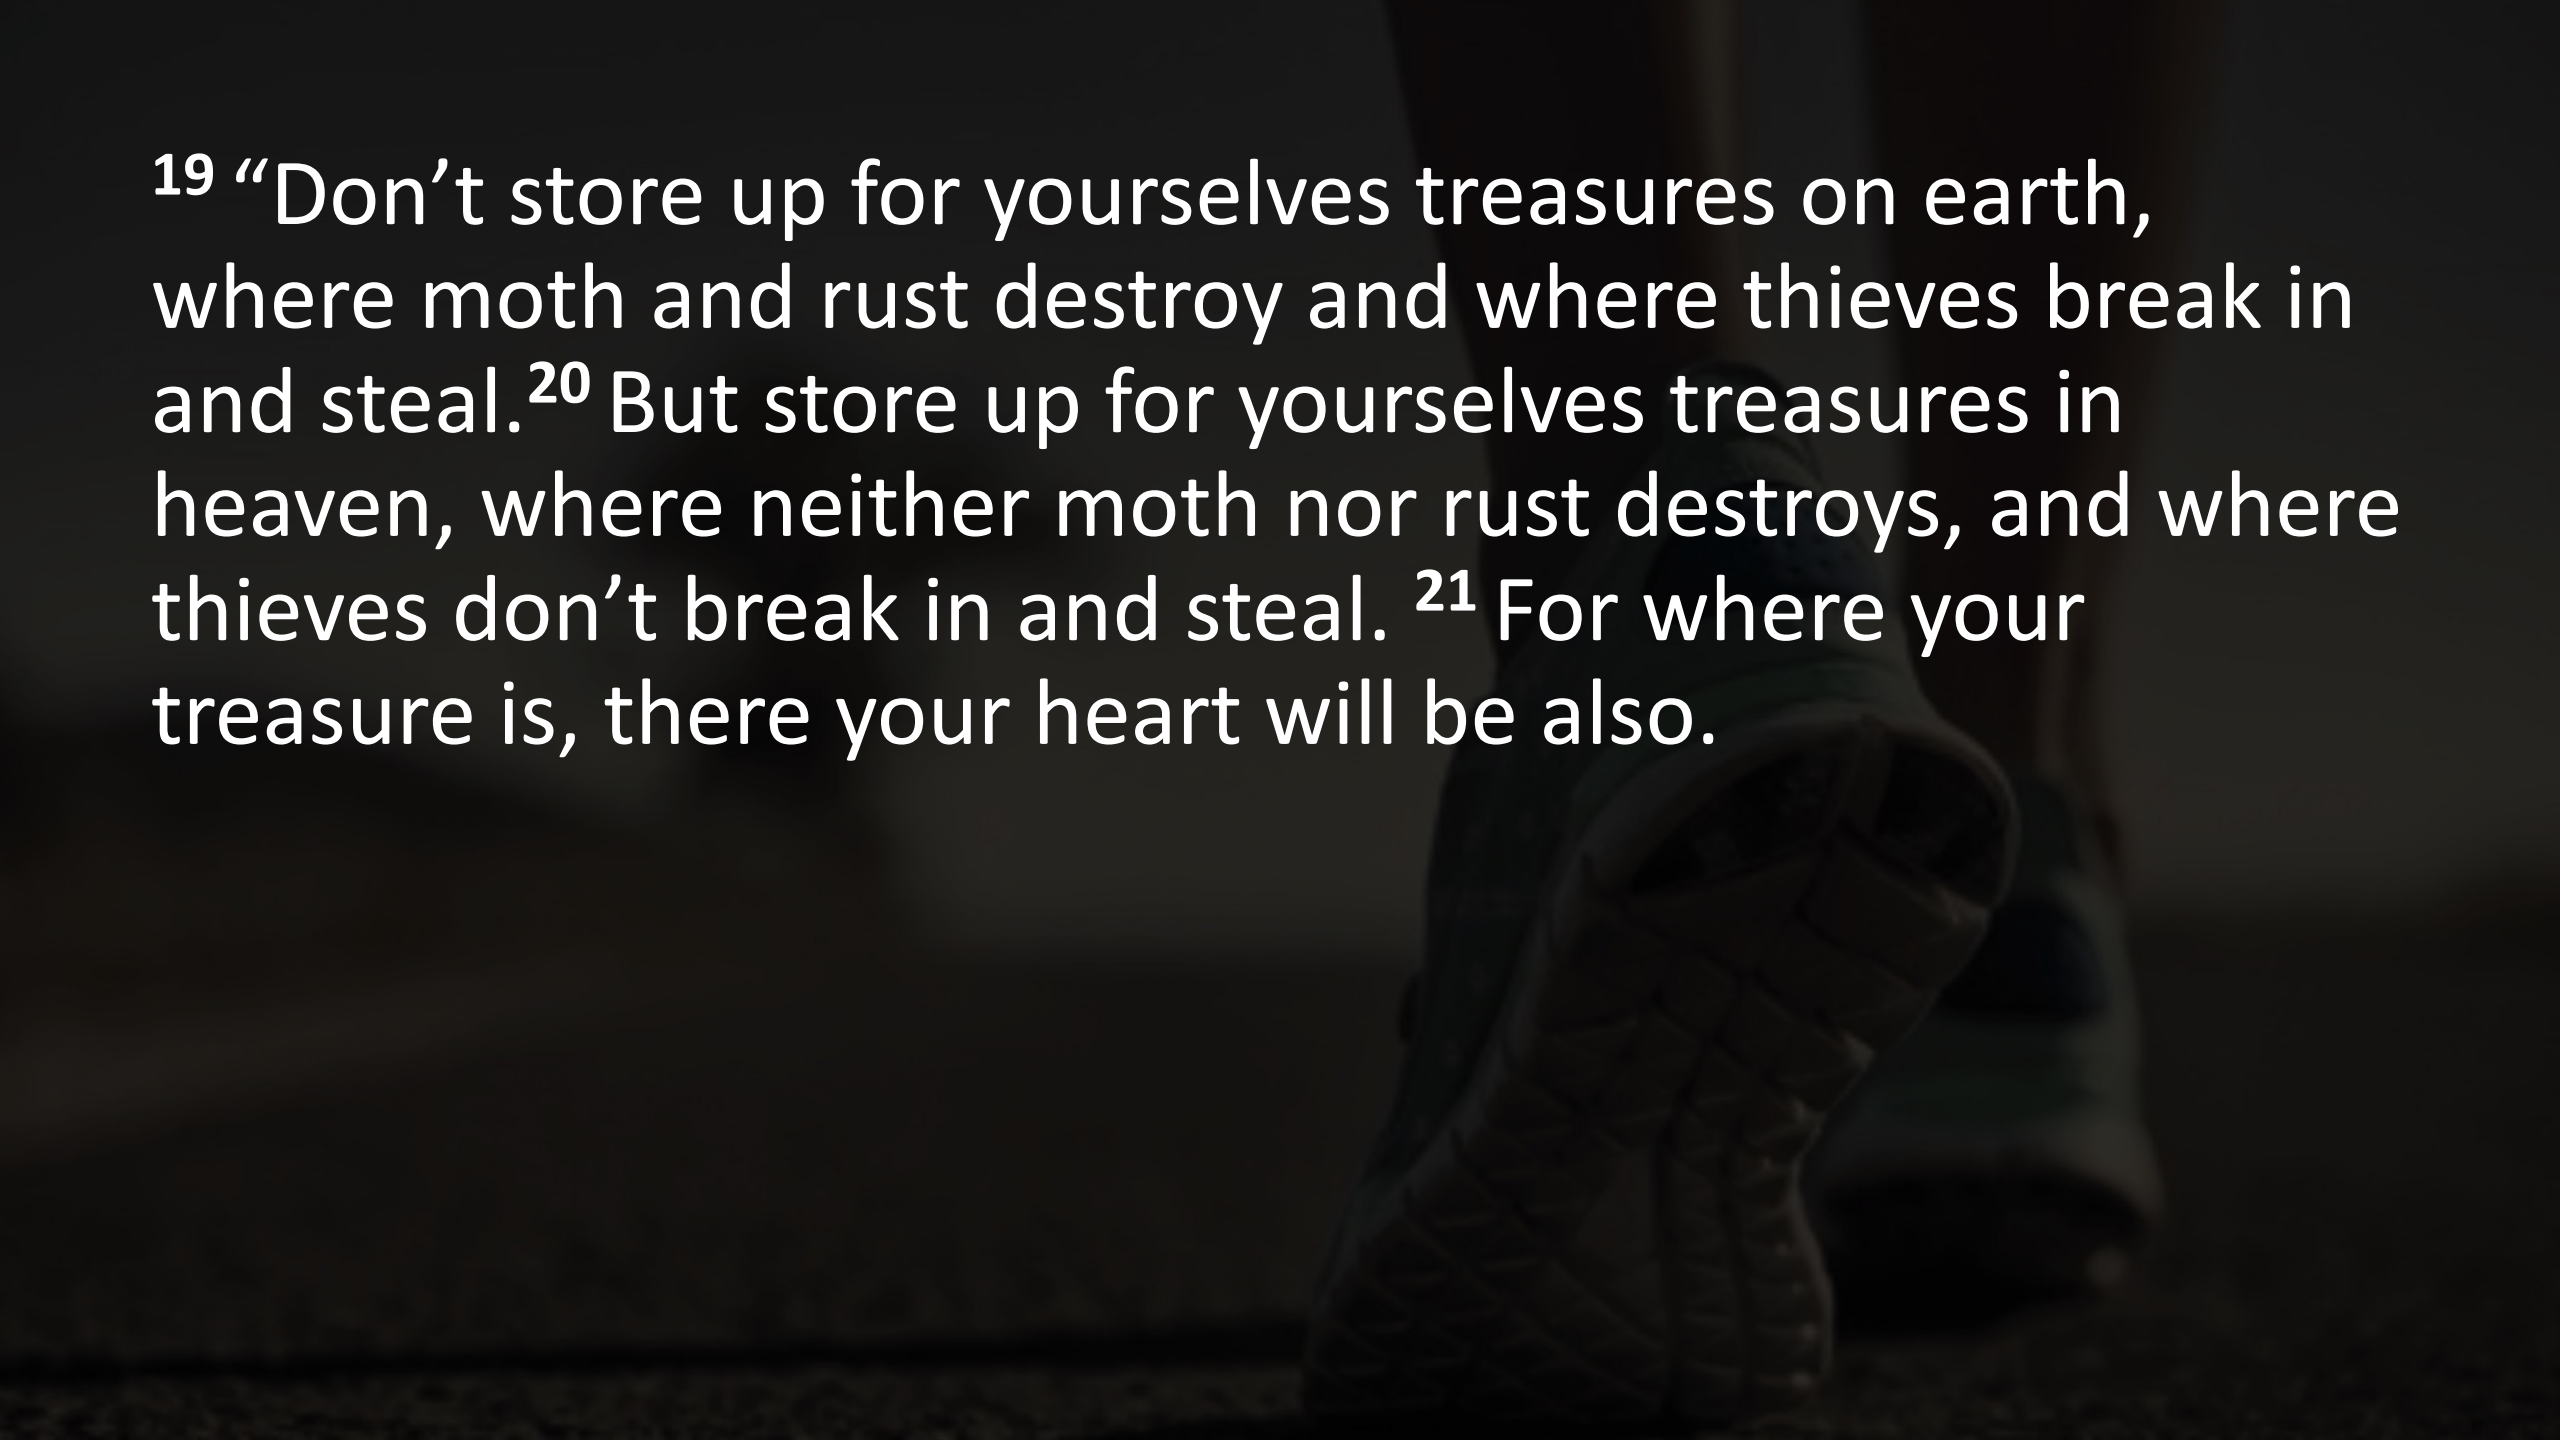

Spiritual Disciplines: Stewardship

Matthew 6:19-24

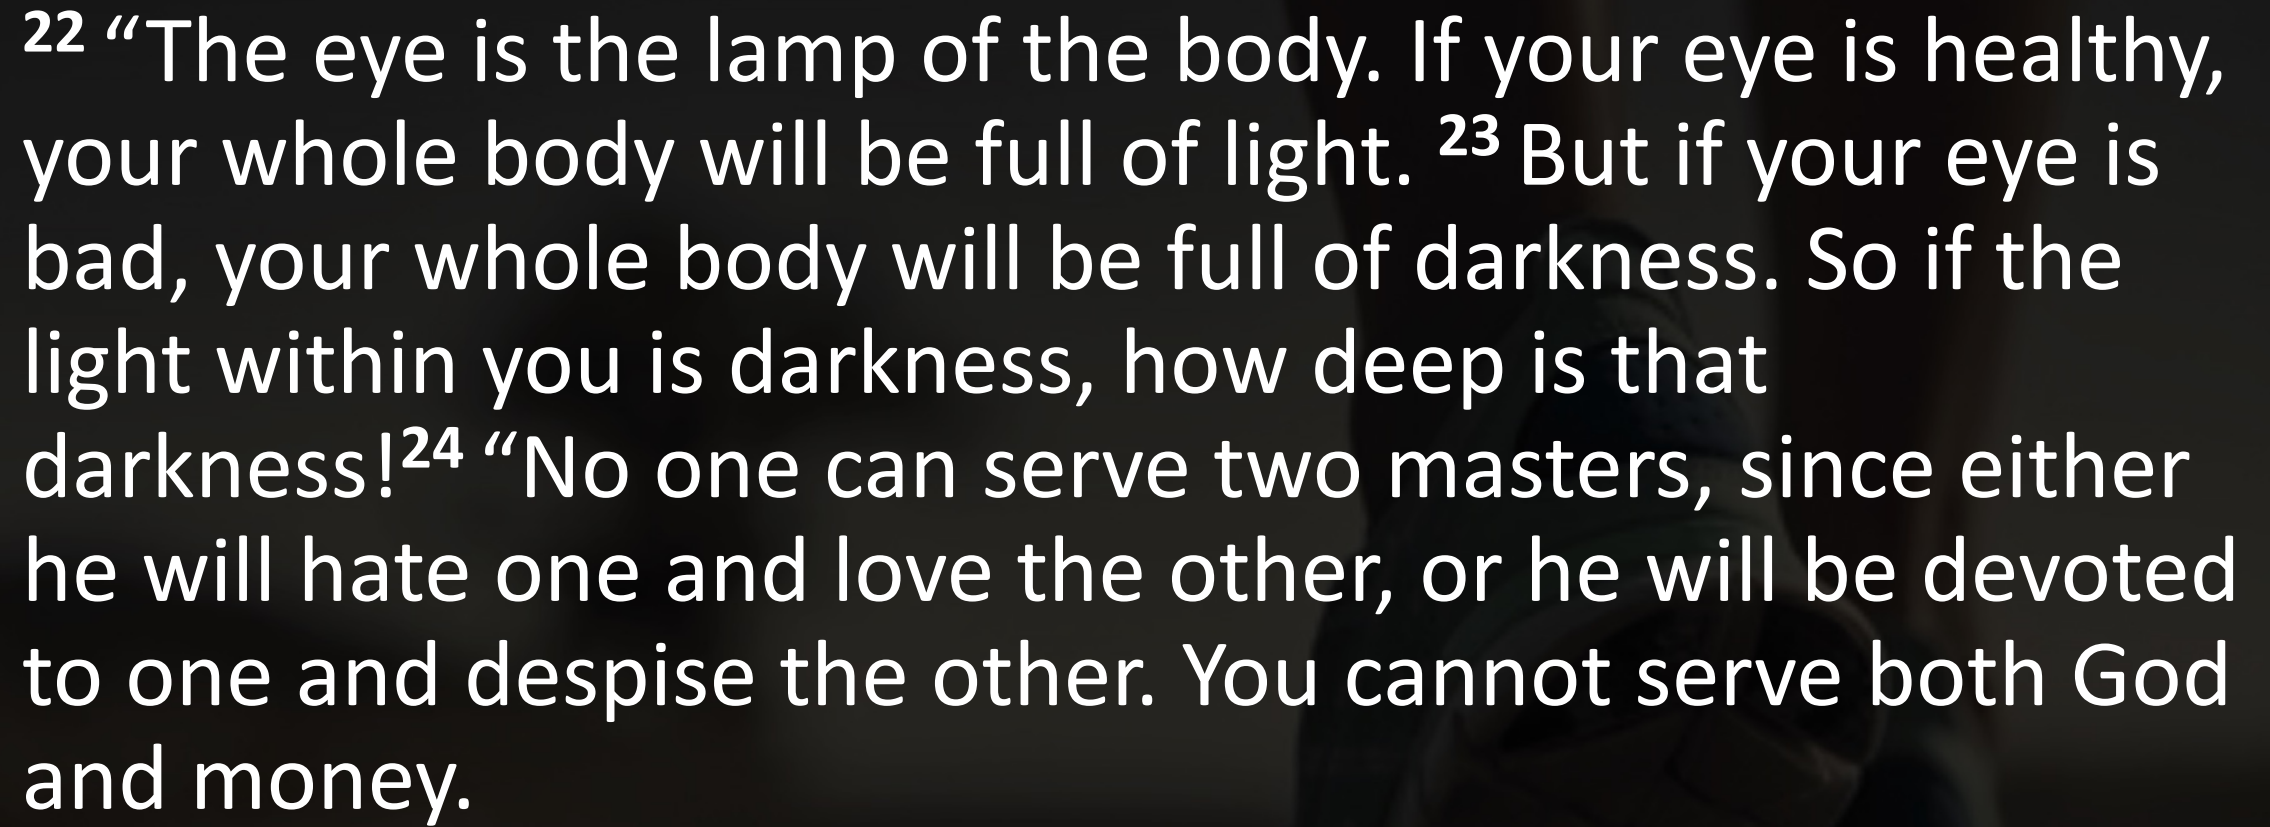

How often do we hear about the discipline of the Christian life these days? How often do we talk about it? How often is it really to be found at the heart of our evangelical living? There was a time in the Christian church when this was at the very centre, and it is, I profoundly believe, because of our neglect of this discipline that the church is in her present position. Indeed, I see no hope whatsoever of any true revival and reawakening until we return to it.

D. MARTYN LLOYD-JONES

19 “Don’t store up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal.²⁰ But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys, and where thieves don’t break in and steal. ²¹ For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

²² “The eye is the lamp of the body. If your eye is healthy, your whole body will be full of light. ²³ But if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. So if the light within you is darkness, how deep is that darkness!²⁴ “No one can serve two masters, since either he will hate one and love the other, or he will be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and money.

Spiritual Disciplines: Stewardship

- Our stewardship begins with a proper perspective.

Spiritual Disciplines: Stewardship

- Our stewardship begins with a proper perspective.
- Our stewardship reveals our heart.

Spiritual Disciplines: Stewardship

- Our stewardship begins with a proper perspective.
- Our stewardship reveals our heart.
- Our stewardship is a weapon against greed and materialism.