

Anchored in the Drift: Salvation Belongs to the Lord

Speaker: Missy Carfield

Date: Sunday, July 9, 2026

Scripture: Daniel 11:36-45; Daniel 12

SUMMARY

Daniel's finale proclaims God's unchanging sovereignty, coming tribulation, resurrection to two destinies, and sure deliverance for those written in the book of life through Jesus Christ alone.

OVERVIEW

Missy Carfield closes the Daniel series—having walked the hard chapters, not only the familiar ones—with praise and sober hope. Kings exalt themselves; God still writes history. A time of trouble comes, yet those who sleep in the dust will awake—some to everlasting life.

Salvation belongs to the Lord. Names written in the book of life through Christ alone are secure when kingdoms fall.

KEY POINTS

- God's sovereignty outlasts self-exalting kings
- Scripture prepares us for tribulation without despair
- Resurrection means two destinies—life or shame
- Deliverance is sure for those in the book of life
- Saving hope is through Jesus Christ alone
- Finishing hard books of Scripture strengthens the church
- Anchor identity in belonging to the Lord, not in surviving empires

MEMORABLE LINES

"Salvation belongs to the Lord."

"Those whose names are written in the book of life through Jesus Christ alone."

"God's unchanging sovereignty over all rising and falling kingdoms."

"We went through the whole book of Daniel—not just the easy part."

TAKEAWAY

Thank God for finishing Daniel, rest your name in Christ alone, and live this week as someone whose forever is already secured in the book of life.
